The Munchkins

Dorothy lives in a small gray house in Kansas with her Uncle Henry, Aunt Em and little dog, Toto. Everything in Kansas is gray. There are no trees or flowers, but there are cyclones¹. Cyclones are very strong winds. They can sometimes blow² people and houses away.

One day Uncle Henry looks at the gray sky. He says, "A cyclone is coming! We must go to the cellar³!"

"Come with us quickly, Dorothy!" says Aunt Em.

They run to the door of the cellar but Toto is afraid. He runs into the bedroom and under the bed. Dorothy runs after him.

"Leave Toto and come to the cellar now!" cries4 Aunt Em.

1. cyclones:飓风。

2. blow:吹。

3. cellar:地窖。

4. cries:叫喊。

The house flies¹ and flies in the sky for many hours. Dorothy and Toto are alone and afraid. After some time they become very tired and they fall asleep. When they wake up, the house is on the ground. Everything is quiet. Dorothy opens the door quietly and goes out. It is a sunny day and she sees tall trees and beautiful flowers everywhere.

"Where are we? And who are those people?" Dorothy can see three short men and an old woman. The men are wearing blue hats, blue clothes and blue shoes. The old woman is wearing a beautiful white dress.

She looks at Dorothy and says, "We're very happy. You bring good luck. The Wicked¹ Witch² of the East is dead! The Munchkins are her people. They're happy now because she's dead. Thank you, dear girl."

Dorothy is surprised, "I don't understand," she says. The old woman and the Munchkins smile at her.

Cyclones

"funnel" touches the earth³, it can blow everything away: people, animals and even cars and houses!

In the United States there are approximately 1,000 reports of cyclones every year. But not all of these are dangerous. In fact, only about ten to twenty are violent.⁴ Cyclones are very common⁵ in some of the central⁶ states, such as Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. They usually

1. storms:暴风雨。

2. funnel:漏斗。

3. earth:地球。

4. violent:强烈的。

5. common:普遍的。

6. central:中部的。

happen between April and October, because of the warm temperatures1.

On average² a cyclone lasts for³ about fifteen to twenty minutes and can move from 75 miles (131 kilometers) to 300 miles (480 kilometers) per⁴ hour.

Some people are very interested in cyclones and like to follow them in their cars. Some are scientists, but some other people do this as a hobby⁵. They write about each cyclone, take photos and make films. It is very dangerous, but it can help us understand more about what cyclones can do and why they happen.

Answer these questions.

- a. What kind of things can a cyclone blow away?
- b. How many violent cyclones are there in the United States every year?
- c. In which states are there a lot of cyclones?
- d. How long does an average cyclone last?
- e. How quickly do cyclones usually move?
- f. Why are people's pictures, films and reports of cyclones important?
- 1. temperatures:温度。
- 2. average: 平均,一般的。
- 3. lasts for: 持续。

- 4. per:每一
- 5. hobby: 嗜好。

The four friends walk all day. In the evening they see some little green houses and some little people in green clothes. "Everything's green," says Dorothy, "We're near the Emerald City."

Soon they come to a big green door. It opens slowly, and they see a little man in green clothes and green glasses.

"We want to see the Wizard of Oz, please," says Dorothy.

"OK. Follow me," says the little man, "But first put these on."

He opens a big box and inside there are lots of pairs of green glasses.

"You must wear these glasses. Everybody in the Emerald City wears them."

So they put on the glasses and go into the Emerald City.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

They stop in front of the Palace of Oz. A man opens the door.

"Follow me," he says. He takes them into a big green room, "Now wait here until I call you." When he returns he says, "The Wizard wants to see the girl first."

Dorothy goes into a beautiful room. On a green chair there is only a very big head, without a body, arms or legs.

She is surprised and afraid.

"I am Oz," says the big head, "Who are you and what do you want?"

"I'm Dorothy and I want to go home to Kansas. I don't know the way. Can you help me, please?"

The head does not answer. Dorothy leaves the room and the Scarecrow goes in.

"Oh, great Oz, please give me a brain," says the Scarecrow.

"First you must kill the Wicked Witch of the West," says Oz.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

The Tin Woodman enters the green room. He sees an ugly monster with five eyes, five arms and five legs.

"Oh, great Oz, please give me a heart," says the Tin Woodman.

"First, you must help Dorothy and the Scarecrow kill the Wicked Witch of the West," says Oz.

The Tin Woodman leaves the room and the Lion goes in. He sees a big ball of fire. He is afraid!

"Oh, great Oz, please give me courage," says the Lion.

"I can only give you courage when the Wicked Witch of the West is dead."

When the friends meet, they talk about the strange Wizard.

"Go and kill the people and the dog. But bring me the lion. He is big and strong. He can work for me."

"Yes, immediately!" say the Winged Monkeys, and they fly away.

They quickly reach the road, and see the four friends and the dog. They break the Tin Woodman's arms and legs. They take the straw out of the Scarecrow and throw his clothes into a tree.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

The Winged Monkeys do not hurt Dorothy and Toto because they see the good witch's kiss on Dorothy's forehead. They decide to take them to the Wicked Witch's castle with the Lion.

The Wicked Witch sees the kiss on Dorothy's face and she is afraid. But she doesn't say anything.

"Ha, ha! Now you are my prisoner. You must work in my house every day. Clean this dirty kitchen!" she says to Dorothy, "Remember, I can watch you all the time!"

Dorothy looks at her sadly and starts to clean the kitchen.

"How can I go back to Kansas now?" she thinks. She is very unhappy.

Dorothy does not know her shoes are magic1, but the Wicked Witch knows, and she wants them.

One morning Dorothy's left shoe falls off. The Wicked Witch quickly takes it and says, "This is my shoe now!"

"No, it isn't!" cries Dorothy angrily,

"Give it to me!"

"No! Don't do that!" cries the Wicked Witch of the West. "Water kills me! Aaagh! Help! Help me please."

* Back to the Emerald City

The Winged Monkeys find the Lion and free him. He is happy now. They find the Scarecrow's clothes and put some straw in them. The Scarecrow laughs and says, "Thank you!"

Then the Winged Monkeys help the Tin Woodman. They give him a new oil can.

"Now I can move my arms and legs. Thank you!" he says.

"The Wicked Witch of the West is dead!" says Dorothy to her friends.

Everyone is very happy.

"We must go back to the Wizard of Oz and tell him," says Dorothy, "The Winged Monkeys can take us back to the Emerald City."

"Blow the magic whistle!" says the Tin Woodman.

Dorothy blows the whistle and the monkeys come again. They carry Dorothy and her friends up into the sky. Soon they are at the green door of the Emerald City. The little green man opens the door. He gives them glasses and takes them to the Palace. They go to the Wizard's room, but no one is there.

A voice says, "I am the Wizard of Oz."

"Where are you?" asks Dorothy.

"I am everywhere, but you can't see me," says the Wizard, "Who are you and what do you want?"

"Don't you remember us? I'm Dorothy! I'm here with my friends the Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman and the Lion. The Wicked Witch of the West is dead and you must keep your promise. I want to go home to Kansas."

"Yes," says the Scarecrow, "the Wicked Witch is dead so you must give me a brain."

"And you must give me a heart," says the Tin Woodman.

"And I want some courage," says the Lion.

"Is the Wicked Witch of the West really dead?" asks the Wizard.

"Yes, she is!" they all say.

"Come back tomorrow," says the Wizard, "I must think about1 this."

"No, it's a beautiful woman," says the Scarecrow.

"You're wrong, it's a monster with five eyes, five arms and five legs," says the Tin Woodman.

"No," says the Lion, "The Wizard is a big ball of fire."

"You're all wrong," says the little man quietly, "I am the Wizard, but I'm not a real Wizard. I'm from Kansas too. I like traveling in hot-air balloons. That is why I'm here."

"Oh!" say the four friends and they look at each other.

"The people here think I'm a wizard because I come from the sky," says the little man, "I live inside this Palace and never go out. No one must see me. Everyone must think I'm a real wizard."

HOW DOES THE WIZARD DO HIS MAGIC TRICKS?

Can you remember what each of the four friends see when they first see the Wizard? Make a list and retell the story.

"I am a Wizard, but I'm not a real Wizard." Look at your answers to the activity above. How is it possible for the four friends to each see someone or something different? Listen to Dorothy asking the Wizard about his secret and number the pictures in the correct order.

Now listen again and write the correct question under each picture.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Promises

The next morning the four friends go to the Wizard's room. The Scarecrow asks, "Is my brain ready1?"

"Please sit down," says Oz, "First I must open your head. Then I can put your brain in the right place. Now don't move."

The little man opens a green box with the word "brain" on it. He slowly puts a brain into the Scarecrow's head.

"Now you have a brain you are a very clever Scarecrow," says Oz. "Oh, thank you!" says the Scarecrow, "I finally have a brain!"

1. ready:准备好的。

2. finally: 最终地。

"Where is my heart?" he asks.

Oz goes to a big green box and takes out a beautiful red heart.

"Here is a special red heart. Wear it all the time," says Oz.

"Is it a kind heart?" asks the Tin Woodman.

"Yes, it's a very kind heart," says Oz.

"I'm very happy! Thank you!" says the Tin Woodman. "Now I can love someone."

How can I go home now?" Dorothy asks sadly, "Where is the Land of the Quadlings? And who is the Good Witch of the South?"

She starts crying.

The Tin Woodman looks at her and starts crying too.

"Don't cry!" says the Scarecrow, "Water is bad for your tin body. Blow the magic whistle, Dorothy, the Winged Monkeys can help you."

"You're a clever Scarecrow," says
Dorothy. She blows the magic whistle and the Winged Monkeys arrive.

"Please take us to the Land of the Quadlings," she says, "I must find the Good Witch of the South."

The Winged Monkeys take Dorothy and her friends to the Land of the Quadlings.

The Good Witch of the South

The Land of the Quadlings is lovely. There are flowers and trees everywhere. All the houses are red. The Quadlings are short and they all wear red clothes and red shoes. A kind Quadling woman gives them some cake and milk.

"Where is the castle, please?" asks Dorothy.

"Take the road to the South," says the kind woman.

When the friends arrive at the beautiful castle, they see three Quadling girls outside the castle gate.

"Why are you here?" asks one girl in a friendly voice.

"I want to see the Good Witch of the South," says Dorothy.

"Please wait here," says the other girl.

The Wonderful Wizard of Oz

After a few minutes the three girls return and say, "Follow us, please."

Soon Dorothy and her friends enter a big room and see the Good Witch of the South. She is young and beautiful. She has red hair and blue eyes. She is wearing a long white dress.

"What can I do for you, my child," asks the Good Witch.

"I want to go home to Kansas," says Dorothy, "Can you help me?"

She looks at Dorothy's silver shoes and smiles. "Your silver shoes are magic," she says.

"They can take you home. First close your eyes, then click your heels¹ three times and say, "Take me home to Kansas!"

"That's easy!" says Dorothy happily, "Thank you!"

1. heels:鞋跟。

"And what about your friends?" says the Good Witch, "What do they want?"

"I'm a clever Scarecrow and I want to rule¹ the Emerald City," says the Scarecrow.

"I have a kind heart," says the Tin Woodman, "I want to rule the Land of the Winkies because the Wicked Witch of the West is dead."

"I am a courageous² lion," says the Lion, "I want to be the King of the Forest."

D: So Scarecrow, is your job very boring?

S: It's not boring at all. In fact I do a lot of different things. Can you keep a secret?

- D: Yes, of course. So what do you do all day?
- S: Well, when the farmer leaves in the morning I always wait for five minutes before I get off my post. I like reading about what is happening in the news, so I often read the farmer's newspaper, The Munchkin Times. After I finish the newspaper, I sometimes practice the violin, I am learning the play and I love it. It's such a beautiful musical instrument. Then in the afternoons, I usually go to see some of my friends in the area. There are lots of scarecrows here, you know.
- D: How do you travel around? Do you drive?
- S: Oh no, I never drive! The farmer has a big tractor, but I don't like it. It's too noisy and there's always a lot of smoke. I usually ride my bicycle.
- D: What do you and your friends usually do?
- S: Some of my friends like sports, so they often play tennis. I hardly ever play because I don't really like tennis. I usually play some card games with three or four friends. We can talk at the same time.
- D: What about when it is very hot and sunny, do you sunbathe?
- S: But Dorothy, I never sunbathe because it is very dangerous for scarecrows. I'm very afraid of it because I don't want to catch fire.

TAPESCRIPT

Where do lions live?

Most lions today live in parts of Africa. Lions like areas with lots of grass.

How many lions are there in the world? Today there are about 20,000 lions in Africa.

How long do they live?

In captivity lions can live for about 25 years. In the wild they usually only live for about 8 to 10 years.

How do they live?

Lions are social animals and they live in groups, called a pride. Some prides are very small and some are very big, most have about 15 lions.

What differences are there between males and females?

Male lions have long hair around their face, called a mane. Male lions protect the pride when the female lions look for food.

How big are they?

An adult male can be about 2 metres long and can weigh from 170 to 230 kilograms.

An adult female is smaller at about 1.5 metres long and with a weight of about 120 to 180 kilograms.

How often do they have cubs?

Lions in captivity can have cubs every year, but lions in the wild usually have cubs only every two years. The lioness can have from one to six cubs at a time.
