

THE OFFICIAL

VELDA

Girl Detective

PAPER DOLL
KIT

Official Velda Girl Detective Paper Doll Kit
Copyright 1954 Whitman Publishing Company
Racine, Wisconsin

The Official Velda GIRL DETECTIVE Paper Doll

Well, here it is, the Official Velda Girl Detective Paper Doll! I would never have dreamed, while dancing at Slotnik's Follies, that someday little girls would be dressing me up!

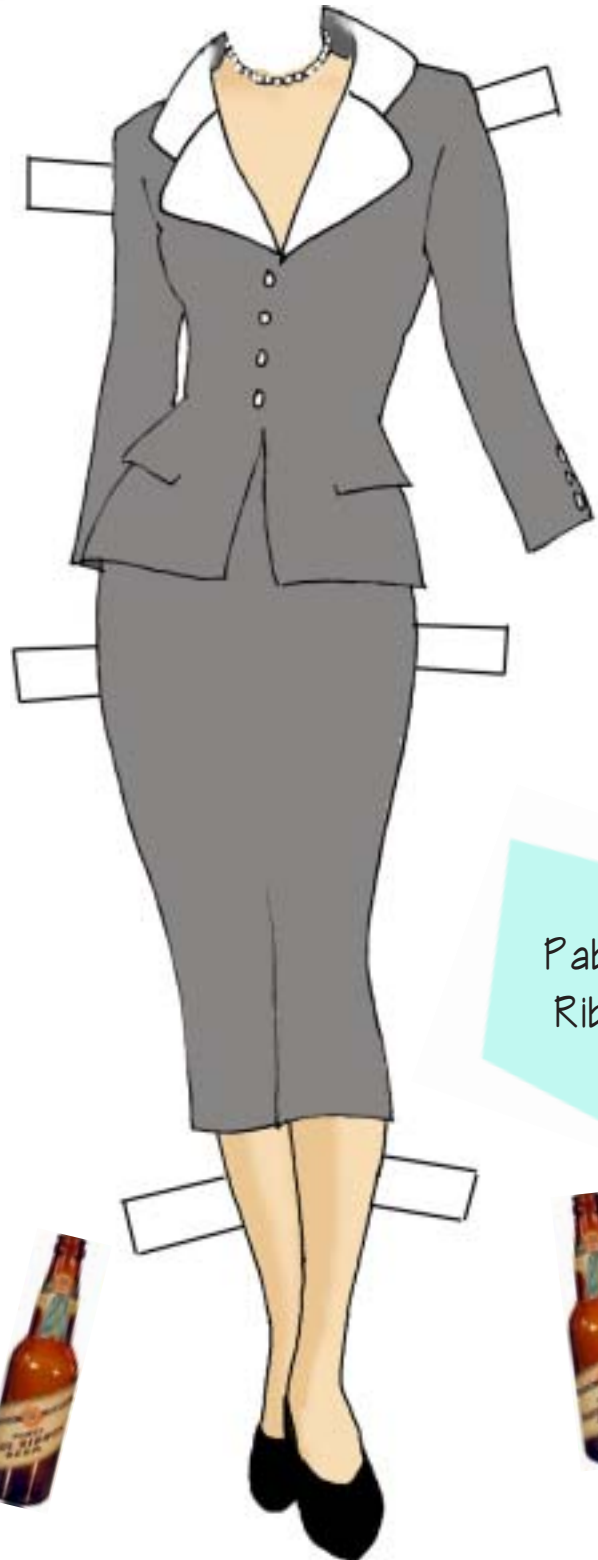

This is my gun.
It's a nickel-plated Colt .45. It was my Dad's and it's really cool.

This is me in my undies.
Always be sure that your underthings are clean.
You never know who might see them.

My Capri pants and sweater.
I'm a knock-out in this!

My only suit. Cost me a fortune but sometimes you got to look business-like, you know? Only worn it twice so far, dammit.

Pabst Blue
Ribbon! Oh
Boy!

Every detective's got to have a trenchcoat, right? Real Burberry, too, even if it is Salvation Army!

My only swimsuit. Wore it when I won Miss Methylated Oil Seed of 1952. Pretty smart-looking, don't you think?

Comfy halter and shorts for those awful NY summers.

This is how I made my living for several years after my Dad was killed. No wonder I thought being a detective would be better! Warmer, too!

My favorite outfit for just laying around the house.

Girls! Collect These Other Fine Whitman Paper Doll Kits Of Your Favorite Whitman Better Little Book Heroines!

Nancy of the Navy

Pretty Polly Feelgood, Yukon Nurse

Gloria Starr Goes to Hollywood

The Beckenbocker Twins

Dimples McGrew, Secret Agent

Flaming Hair, Indian Princess

Two-Gun Annie Buckboard

WACs At War!

Shadow Girl With the FBI

Millicent the Model

Womba the Leopard

. . . and many more!

