Introduction

My first contact with Mr. Ted Nancy was the night of August 30, 1995. I went to a friend's house to watch the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, which I watch every year. There were a few other people there, and as we were enjoying the program, I noticed a handful of letters sitting on the coffee table. I read one, and then another, and then another. I began to laugh out loud at the letters, and just as much at the responses from the various businesses and corporations that followed each one. Then I started reading the letters to my friends, and the next thing I know, the whole room was laughing and having a wonderful time. I stopped reading only when Jerry Lewis sang "When You Walk Through a Storm." I never miss that part every year. It's one of my favorite things.

Anyway, one thing I know as a comedian is that it's very rare for people to laugh out loud at television or the printed word even though they may be enjoying it very much. But the people in that den were really laughing. Believe me, I know laughs, and these were real big show business laughs. I thought, I don't know what this is, but it's some pretty powerful stuff.

There was just one strange thing. There was this one fellow in the room who just kind of nodded approvingly as each letter was read. He didn't seem irritated, nor did he seem particularly impressed. He was just sort of sitting back, taking the whole thing in.

I have learned over the years how when funny people see their work appreciated, it's something like when parents watch their children playing. They may not be involved, but there's this detached pride in the joy that they feel indirectly responsible for. That was the look on that man's face that night. I guess I didn't realize it at the time, but I am convinced to this day that that man was the real Ted L. Nancy.

When I left, I asked the host if I could borrow the letters. I didn't know what I was going to do with them. I think I really just wanted to read them again. So I took them home, and over the next couple of weeks, read them again to various people I know whose senses of humor have been rigorously developed to professional strength.

I must, by the way, mention if you should find yourself in possession of this book, one of the great joys of it is definitely reading the letters out loud. And always be careful to point out when something is in parentheses. The careful use of the parenthetical phrase is my favorite aspect of the Ted Nancy writing style.

Anyway, everyone's reaction was the same as the night of the telethon. You cannot not laugh at these letters. So I called my friend, whose house it was, and asked him if he could get any more of the letters. He said, "Sure, there's lots more." Then I called my literary agent, Dan Strone of the William Morris Agency, an extremely charming and well dressed man and, more importantly, one of the smartest guys in show business. I said, "Dan, I have a bunch of letters here that I think could be some kind of book if you could get enough of them." So Dan got an outfit together and a lunch was arranged.

I had now taken on the role of a Clark Kent figure. I may not have been Superman himself, but it became known that I was able to contact him. There wasn't much else I had to do after that. When you give something good to Dan Strone, it's like handing the ball off to Gale Sayers. You just know it's going places.

As far as Ted L. Nancy himself goes, I'm really still pretty much in the dark about him. From his Vegas shrimp costume to his dog play, "Cinnamon, A Life in Progress," to his lost bag of otter hair, it's hard to figure out what's driving this guy. I will say that Ted L. Nancy definitely possesses many of the qualities I consider essential for a good life. He enjoys the simple things, like fine busboy service, Bon Ami cleanser, and steamboats. He is extremely courteous and complimentary to his correspondents and will go to any length to find a kind word to say. "You make great horseradish sauce," he writes the Excalibur hotel.

On the other hand, he does not travel well or easily. Always requiring special arrangements or permission to be made in advance for his various costumes, furniture, draperies, and vending machines. Mr. Nancy is also apparently a gifted and versatile live performer, offering many types of freak and celebrity impersonations. Unfortunately, the shows are inevitably derailed by poor advance booking commitments.

I guess I would like to say that in many ways Ted Nancy is a lot like you and me. We all have peculiar problems and often have to deal with faceless strangers to resolve them. But it's just not true. Ted Nancy is not like you and me. Nobody has problems like this guy. Nobody travels with a Prussian military sword and then loses it. Nobody is writing fan letters to Max Schmeling. Nobody is going to hotels asking if they can wet the bed and bring their own ice machines. And nobody, but nobody, is in contact with a real African king trying to locate his girlfriend's lost mail.

But this guy is. And I knew from the beginning that I had to do everything I could to let as many people as possible read the hilarious truth about what has been going on inside the mailbox of Ted L. Nancy, whoever he may be.

MANAGER RITZ CARLTON HOTEL 160 East Pearson Street Chicago, Ill. 60611

Dear Sir:

I wanted to know if you possibly found a Prussian military sword that I think I may have left in your hotel restaurant the night of Saturday, July 7th? I was in your men's room when I loosened the sword to go to the restroom.

I am with a traveling group and was in costume the night I used your restroom. When I was washing my hands I noticed that your paper towel rack was empty. With wet hands I went over to a stall to get some tissue (Your hand dryer was not working!)

I had to loosen my trousers to use the facility. In doing so I loosened the sword (actually took it off) and somehow forgot to put it back on when I pulled my trousers up again. That's how I think the sword may be in your restroom.

The sword is a standard size sword in a jewled (fake) encrusted sheath. The sheath is crushed velvet (also fake). It was on a sword belt, size 36. It has no value other than as part of a costume I wear.

Please contact me at the following address:

Dear Nordstrom Dept Stores.

I am a regular shopper at your Nordstroms store in Glendale. In the last few weeks I have noticed that a new mannequin you have out in the store looks just like my deceased neighbor. I have passed this mannequin from many directions and the resemblance is uncanny. In every way - nose, cheekbones, hair, etc. Look at it from any angle. It looks like the neighbor I was friendly with. Even the clothes that the mannequin was wearing is the kind of lightweight windbreaker jacket my neighbor would wear. It is UNBELIEVABLE that this mannequin looks so much like my neighbor.

Is it possible to buy this mannequin (after its use) so I may present it to my neighbor's family? They would think this would be a VERY sentimental gesture. I think his co-workers would also like to have him remembered, so having him "there" would be good, therapeutic behavior for all.

I was told to write to your store's HEADQUARTERS OFFICE after I inquired about buying this mannequin to the saleslady (Very, courteous, I may add.) She suggested that only the stores main office could assist me in this purchase. But she was very helpful with my socks purchase.

Thank you, Nordstrom, for being a store that cares about its customers. I am a long time shopper. I keep lots of things in your Nordstrom bags. Fishing gear, etc. I have a garage full of Nordstrom bags full of old shoes, wire hangers, etc. That's how I know I've been to your store so much. Let me know about the mannequin. This family is in some need of good loving. This will help!

Sincerely,

Ted L. Nancy

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Yours is one of the most interesting requests 1 have ever received. Candidly, I can't imagine any family who has lost a loved one wanting to see a mannequin that resembles that person.

Of course, we want to respond to our customers as positively as possible, but we definitely do not sell display materials while they are being used by the company. I see no reason why (when it comes time for a change of mannequins) that we wouldn't sell it to you at the same price we would get from our normal resources.

If you should be interested in that, simply talk to our store manager there at Glendale, Diane Kantor, and she will let you know when the time comes. Unfortunately, mannequins are used for a number of years before they are phased out.

Sincerely.

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Your letter was forwarded to me by Mr. Bruce Nordstrom and I am aware of your request for a particular mannequin resembling a deceased friend. After reading your letter I was somewhat perplexed as to which mannequin you were talking about as our store does not use Male mannequins in our display area, including the window and departments.

As Mr. Nordstrom shared with you, we generally do not sell display materials while they are being used; however, I would be more than happy to work with you once we are able to isolate which mannequin this could be and once it is phased out.

Mr. Nancy, please do not hesitate to call me and hopefully together we can decipher exactly which mannequin you are referring to. I can be reached at (818)502-9922 or you may leave a message with our Store Secretary, Amy Tiner.

MR. ALBERT H. MEYER, PRESIDENT AMERICAN SEATING COMPANY 901 Broadway Grand Rapids, Michigan 49504

Dear Mr. Meyer:

I had a seating question and I was referred to you because I understand you manufacture stadium and arena seating. My question:

When entering or exiting a seat in a stadium which is the proper side to face the person sitting down? Rear to them or crotch to them?

I am always at a quandry when this problem comes up. To hence: last week at a sporting event I had to leave my seat. There were a row of people - ALL FROM THE SAME FAMILY - that were sitting down the row. I exited my seat, stood up and faced away from this family. Then I moved down the row realizing my buttocks were not 2 inches from this whole guy's family. I had shown an entire family my rear end! But then again If I had turned around and moved down the aisel THAT WAY, wouldn't that be worse?

Stadium seating is the only situation in life where you can show whole rows of people your butt or crotch. And it's acceptable!

Can something be done about this seating? Should the rows be changed? I suggest a single row straight up to the top. You walk into the stadium you simply find your seat number and go up until you get it.

Question: Is there a gracious way to exit? Thank you, Sir, for your response.

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Your letter on crotch or butt first was most interesting. In fact, in all 38 years which I have been in this business it is probably the most interesting question I have ever been asked. I have shared your letter with numerous of my colleagues, and they have also found it most interesting.

But alas, we have no good answer. Your idea of a single chair has merit, but unfortunately would greatly reduce the number of chairs which could be put in the building.

The only suggestion we could come up with is for you to come early before anyone has arrived, stay in your seat for the entire time, and wait until everyone else has gone before leaving. This, of course, could cause an even more embarrassing problem.

If you come up with any solutions we would welcome hearing from you.

Sincerely.

GENERAL MANAGER LUXOR HOTEL & CASINO 3900 Las Vegas Blvd. South Las Vegas, NV 89119-1000

Dear Luxor Hotel & Casino General Manager,

I am building a house that's in the same shape as your hotel and wonder if it would be ok if I came by your hotel and took some pictures of the outside? I think your hotel is the perfect design for my house. I would stand on the far corners of each sidewalk and take a few pictures.

This is a private house; 2 bedroom, 2 1/2 bath; family room, breakfast nook, den, patio, dog walk in the back. There are some orange trees. And a big front yard. This is not a commercial venture. I am not building a hotel or gas station or mini mart. I am not building a place like your Hotel where there is wear and tear on the carpet. It is just a house for myself. I was told to write to the Hotel General Manager when I inquired about this to the HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT. They directed me to you.

I wanted to come by and take a few pictures of the outside of your Luxor Hotel. One picture would be of your long gray wall. The other is also of the wall but on the other side facing the other street. There's some bushes there. I would use a Polaroid. I was told I needed to get permission from you.

Thank you, Luxor. I have long admired your hotel. I have always thought it would be a perfect design for a house. Although I would do it a different color. I'm thinking beige. And not that glint. I love the slanted walls!

So...please let me know If it would be ok if I took some outside pictures of your hotel. I will make little commotion as I would just take the pictures and leave. My car is across the street. This would help the stucco and plasterer guy on my house.

If you already have a picture of the outside of your hotel that you could send me, that would be ok. Anything that shows those outside walls off. Thanks very much.

Dear Mr Gordon Besher,

I think that's your name. Your signature is muffled on the side of my Bon Ami cleanser. It could say Gordon Burkar the third, so my apologies to you and others in your family that may have your name.

I am writing to you because on the side of the product (Bon Ami Kitchen and Bath Cleanser) it says- followed by your signature -

"I personally warrant this product to be of quality and integrity. If you are not satisfied, please return to me with your comments for refund and postage. We wish to continue earning your confidence." Signed Gordon Bruckar the third (possibly the fourth).

These are your exact words. So, my question to you, Sir, is what do you mean by this product being of integrity?

Don't get me wrong, your product is very, very good. I have cleaned a lot of things with Bon Ami over the years. It is the best at stains I have ever seen since Bab-O. The "quality" is there. Just what is the "integrity?"

So, these are my comments. I look forward to hearing from you.

I will continue to use Bon Ami.

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Thank you for your good letter of July 11. I agree -- my signature isn't all that clear, is it?

Integrity is a great concept, isn't it? Webster's Dictionary defines the word as follows: 1: firm adherence to a code of especially moral or artistic values: INCORRUPTIBILITY 2: an unimpaired condition: SOUNDNESS 3: the quality or state of being complete or undivided: COMPLETENESS Synonym -- see HONESTY

When we bought Bon Ami® in 1971 it had been through 5 or 6 successive companies since the early '50's. It had a bad reputation with the trade because advertising was promised but not often delivered. It had a formula more expensive than competition. It's main reason for being, from the start, was to clean fine hard surfaces without damaging them. Harsh cleansers frequently took the shine off of bathtub surfaces over time, for example. Bon Ami's original advertising, back in the early 1900's, used the baby chick with the saying "Hasn't scratched yet!®" because, apparently, when a chick hatches out of an egg it has enough food in it from the yolk that it doesn't have to hurry out right away and start scratching for food.

So we want Bon Ami to always adhere to it's prime purpose, cleaning without scratching. It doesn't have perfume or coloring, which are really not necessary. It doesn't have chlorine bleach because the bleach can further etch into the scratches harsh cleansers make.

I hope that that answers your question for you. A further answer might come from the dust cover of Jack Hawley's new book, Reawakening The Spirit In Work -- the Power of Dharmic Management. I attached a xerox of its cover and dust jacket.

I had to admit that I had to look up the word "Dharmic". I like it. That's what we're trying to do here. But I don't intend to put that word on the can.

I hope that this answers your question satisfactorily for you. Thank you again for your good letter, for your loyalty, and your continued use of Bon Ami. I will pass your letter among those who make it, knowing that it will make them each just a little prouder of the job he or she is doing.

I'm enclosing a little booklet on our company for your information. My best wishes to you.

Dear Hawaiian Tropic Tanning Lotion,

Recently I wore a tank top with holes in it to an outdoor concert on a hot sunny day. You guessed it - I got a real severe tan.

So I picked out some Hawaiian Tropic Tanning Lotion to even out the color of my tan. I rubbed it on the white spots as the directions said. Let me tell you it looks great!!! One problem...

I can't get the copper tan color off the palms of my hands. My palms are tan. I look like a giant toffee man. With nuts. (ha ha). From a distance people can't tell if I'm coming or going.

I was thinking of trying to get it off with acetone or acetaline but I'm not sure which is correct. What do you suggest? Any job openings?

Eagerly awaiting your reply.

Consultant

Ted L. Nancy 560 N. Moorpark Rd. Apt. 236 Thousand Oaks, CA 91360

Dear Mr. Nancy:

We were sorry to hear of the problem you had with a Hawaiian Tropic self tanning product.

The active ingredient, dihydroxyacetone, or DHA, reacts with the amino acids in the skin to creat the tanned appearance. Exfoliation of the affected skin layers is the way this "tan" fades. In fact, you probably will have faded by the time you receive this letter.

You can try to speed it along by scrubbing your skin with a wash cloth or loufa sponge, but this doesn't work for everybody. I haven't heard of removing the color with acetone or acetaline. After any future applications be sure to wash your palms right away to prevent discoloration.

The only job openings we have right now are for warehouse personnel and quality control inspectors.

Thank you for your letter and we hope you continue to use and enjoy Hawaiian Tropic suncare products.

Dear Secretary Espy:

I'm in a jam, Sir. (Hence the top of the stationary). I told everybody at work that you would be our speaker at our organization of tennis shoe retailers. I have been an admirer of you and your leadership and thought you would be the most appropriate one to raise the moral of our sales force. We cover the western United States in athletic shoe sales.

Is there any way that you could speak at this meeting? (Late February). It would mean a lot for our down trodden and depressed salesman to hear a speaker of your wisdom. A leader who has led the people of America in a favorable manner. I want these men to hear a real Secretary.

These salesmen need to hear a leader of your wisdom. A leader that can lift them out of the temporary stupor they are in. This was once a sales force that could outsell any athletic shoe manufacturer in the Pacific Northwest. Now they are completely depressed over coming in fifth (out of 8) in the recent "Saleabration '95 Expo."

Naturally, everyone is so excited at the prospect of you being there. I could lose my job if you're a no-show! Thank you in advance for your reply. Do you do these type of speaking engagements? If you can't show can I get a picture of you to have for our meeting?

Sep 14, 1995

Dear Lost & Found Dept.:

When visiting your hotel the afternoon of last Saturday, I bit down onto some crackers. Later on, after I woke up, I realized I had lost a tooth. Did anyone find a tooth in your hotel? I'll describe it. It is a small hard whitish object. The size of a piece of corn. It has a rippled top; speck of silver embedded in the top.

If anyone has found this tooth I would like to come and pick it up. I do not want somebody else's tooth. I have had that happen before. PLEASE DO NOT MAIL IT! I do not want to lose it again.

I believe my tooth could be somewhere in the sundries shop, probably by the front, or it could be in the lobby on the floor somewhere in the back. I don't know where I lost it but I do know it was not in my head when I left your hotel last Saturday. Thanks for getting back to me on this.

Dear Mr. Roebuck:

Thank you very much for the time and effort you put into finding my lost tooth. Yes, the loss is regrettable. Although you did not find it, I want to tell you how impressed I was of your dedication to the Brown Palace and their guests. Your diligent search did not go unnoticed.

A copy of this letter has been placed in my file and a record of it logged for future use. It has been shared internally.

In addition, I am Singling You Out for Exemplary Service and a letter to that effect has been sent to the President of the Brown Palace Hotel to let him know how courteous, professional, and dedicated their fine Director Of Loss Prevention is to their customer's needs. Your attention to this matter is outstanding!

For your dedicated service I am wondering if you can accept a gift? I would like to reward you for your diligence. Does the Brown Palace allow you to accept the generosities of another? Please get back to me on this. It is important that I know that you know that we both know that you were thanked.

I anxiously await your reply concerning the gift. (Re: Cinnamon)

LOST & FOUND DEPT COLORADO BELLE HOTEL & CASINO P.O. Box 77000 Laughlin, NV 89028

Dear Lost & Found Department:

I was told to write to you on this matter after I inquired about it at your hotel.

While visiting the Colorado Belle recently I stopped to use the facilities. After being distracted in the commode due to influences that were not your fault I believe I accidentally left behind a small Altar to my deceased neighbor: a lock of hair, photo, scentbag, toenails, breath pad. It was in a container with a strand of ribbon around it. It had a birch smell to it. (Not the root beer!) It was in commode #2. (I think).

I am now wondering if it it was thrown away. Could you please tell me if the hotel has found this Altar? If not, do you think I should search your trash? Many things have been in the trash and retrieved. It is very important! The box alone is worth at least the box. The photo has no value except to me. Although you may enjoy it.

I must hear from you regarding this find. This Altar is my neighbor's worship bag. He needs some peace! Thank you, Colorado Belle. You are a hotel that allows your customers some leeway now and then. Especially when it comes to your trash!

Respectfully,

Ted L. Nancy

Dear Mr. Frautschi,

Doesn't it make sense to you, that if you weighed 150 pounds, and you could lift 300 pounds, you should be able to fly by sitting on a chair and lifting yourself up? How come this doesn't work? The best I can do is jiggle the chair a bit. Am I doing something wrong? My neighbor said it has something to do with gravity, and it's like a physics optical illusion. I think I'm just doing something wrong. Does it matter if the chair is backless or has armrests?

I was told to write to you, that you could help me with the answer. They directed me here. They said you could help me with this problem for our studies. Thank you very much, Sir, for your reply. I hope to excel in Physics some day like you. I think I'm doing "ok" now.

GENERAL MANAGER
WHISKY PETES HOTEL AND CASINO
P.O. Box 19129
Jean, NV 89019

Dear Whisky Pete's General Manager:

I am contemplating opening a gift shop/eatery near the Nevada/California border. I want to call this place "WHISKY PATS." "This will be a VERY SMALL trailer type operation. I hope that my name - "WHISKY PATS" - does not interfere with your name - "WHISKY PATS" - does not interfere with your name - "WHISKY PATS" - does not interfere with your name - "WHISKY PATS" although slightly similar, we offer a different product. While you have gambling, liquor, and buffets. Whisky Pats will offer just a regular menu. We will not have gambling on the premises, but we will be selling tiny slot machines, poker games, and dealers aprons in our gift area. We will have a full line of gaming cards and dice from various casinos for sale. (Some Whisky Petes).

You WILL be able to SEE the WHISKY PATS sign from some of your guest rooms. (If curtains are open). Our sign will not be similar at all. While yours says - "WHISKY PETES" - my sign has "PAT" instead of "PETE." The "WHISKY" is the same. But it will blink out of unison with yours. Your sign blinks, then ours. So...when your sign blinks then goes dark - my sign blinks. When mine is dark - your's blinks. It will be two different signs blinking one right after each other. (I may have music).

So...It is my contention that the name Whisky Pats is OK with you and that I will NOT HAVE any problems should they come up with the possible similarity of the two names.

I have respected your establishment for a long time and have been a good customer there. I will continue to frequent "Whisky Petes." When I get off work at "Whisky Pats", I will run over to "Whisky Petes" for a quick game of keno and some craps.

Thanks for everything. I look forward to being your neighbor.

Re: Protection of Name Symbols & Likenesses of Whiskey Pete's/Whisky Pats"

Dear Nancy:

On August 9, 1995, I received your letter dated August 3, 1995, to the "General Manager of Whiskey Pete's Hotel & Casino." I have been asked to respond.

While we appreciate your request to share protected names, logos, likeness and symbols, we must refuse and reject your request in the most absolute terms. Primadonna has spent tremendous sums to promote the "Whiskey Pete's" name. The name has tremendous commercial value and belongs exclusively to Primadonna. Primadonna has also taken necessary steps to legally protect this name and many other names, devices, merchandising, logos and related intellectual property rights.

Accordingly, we must reject your proposal to share the "Whiskey Pete's" or "Whisky Pats" name in any way and demand that you not pursue this matter further. If you do, we will be forced to pursue all legal avenues available to protect our rights to this important name.

Sincerely

General Counsel

Dear Mr. Jensen,

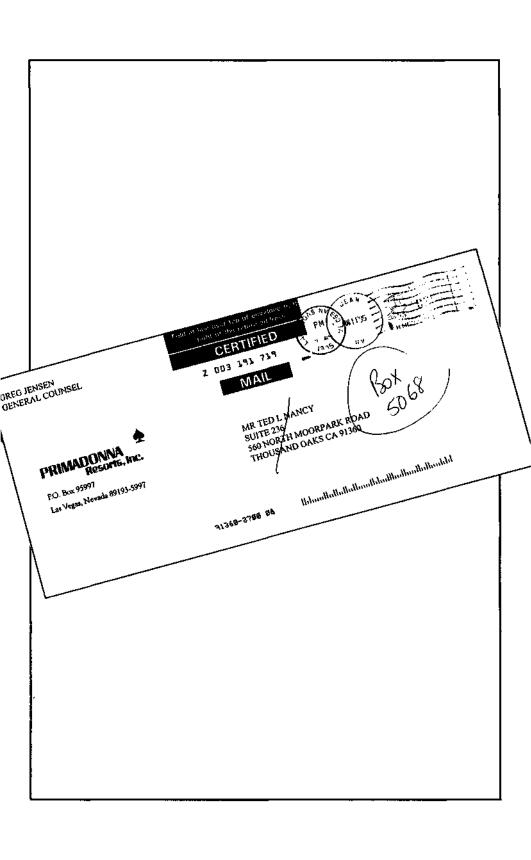

Ok, ok I will not call myself "Whiskey Pats." I can understand you came up with this name first. I have always admired that name, "Whiskey Pete's." Whenever I have passed the "Whiskey Pete's" sign I have always enjoyed viewing it. Whoever came up with that name hit a bingo. So consider this letter my word, my bond, my chattel in promising you that I have abandoned the idea of calling my business "Whisky Pats." (I had thought about putting an "e" in "Whisky" but decided against it). As far as I am concerned "Whisky Pats" is no more, finis, the end. "Whiskey Pete's" can have full use of the area for their sign blinking.

Please be my guest when we have our grand opening of "Bourbon Joe's." Our business will not in anyway interfere with yours. While you have gambling, buffets and entertainment, ours will have SOME food but not buffet style; you pay for everything ala carte. (Except spaghetti on Wednesdays). Please let me know If there is ANY problem with my name - "Bourbon Joe's." I believe I have come up with this name on my own, without any outside influence. I would like to call my mini-giftshop, sandwich place, gamblers den "BOURBON JOE'S" without any worry from you. Please let me know If I may proceed. Thank you.

Finally your neighbor I love your Sign!

EXECUTIVE OFFICE EXCALIBUR HOTEL & CASINO P.O. Box 96778 Las Vegas, Nevada 89193

Dear Excalibur Hotel,

I am interested in selling my EXCALIBURGERS either in your lobby or outside your hotel. EXCALIBURGERS are hamburgers that are in the shape of the Excalibur Hotel. They would have the "EXCALIBUR" logo on them across the bun. I have a company that sells products related to the hotels I sell them in. Like:

RIVI AREA RUGS - Area rugs with the "Riviera" Hotel logo on them.

MAXIM PADS - Sold from a women's hygiene vending machine; personal pads with the "Maxim" logo.

ORE RIO'S - Cookies with the "Rio" Hotel on them

HA HA CIENDAS - Laughing ash trays. Pick it up, it laughs.

STARDUSTBUSTERS - Dusters with "Stardust" across the feathers.

I would set up my stand by your gift shop or near your lobby. (Or outside). We could work out the financial arrangements to your liking. I'm thinking 50-50. That's usually fair for both parties. The stand is very small compared to the massiveness of your hotel. It would get lost in there; you wouldn't even notice it. However, there are substantial profits to be made. I buy hamburgers wholesale and can buy them cheaper than just one person buying one hamburger. Let me know. The hamburger season is coming upon us. (Sept 27th according to official weather reports.). By Christmas we could have this thing humming. I'd like to make this official. I'll start selling my Excaliburgers and if anyone intervenes I'll show them this letter as I am awaiting a reply from you. Thanks.

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Thank you for your letter regarding your products, in particular, the Excaliburger. It is, indeed, a "novel" idea.

As you may know, the hotel currently has several snack bars which handle a variety of fast food items, hamburgers included. Although your logo hamburger presents an interesting concept, it is not one that we are interested in pursuing at this time.

May you be successful in the sale of your other products.

Sept. 3, 1995

Dear Mr. Morocco,

Thank you for answering my letter regarding my "EXCALIBURGERS." Those are the hamburgers that are shaped like the Excalibur Hotel that I wanted to sell in your lobby.

I want to tell you how embarrassed I am, Sir, for wasting your time with what I now consider to be a bad idea. In thinking this idea over I now realize how poor of an idea it was. I don't know what I was thinking. Hamburgers in the shape of your hotel would not be popular. Most people would not want their food in the same shape as where they are sleeping. I am deeply embarrassed.

When I realized I was bothering the Food and Beverage Director I thought I had done a pretty stupid thing. I had no idea this letter would go to you. I thought it would go to the Front Desk, concierge, maybe the coffee shop for approval. But I did not think that you, Sir, would receive a letter which I now am embarrassed of.

To sell hamburgers in the shape of the Excalibur Hotel & Casino is a stupid idea. Nobody would eat them. Most people like their hamburgers round, not in the shape of a castle. I am very sorry that I have wasted your time with this hamburger idea. I can honestly tell you that I will not bother you any more, Excalibur. You are a favorite hotel of mine and I enjoy visiting there. (And eating too!) I now realize my ideas for hotel products is a foolish one. Although I do have interest in the Maxim Pads, but not from the hotel. Those things would sell!

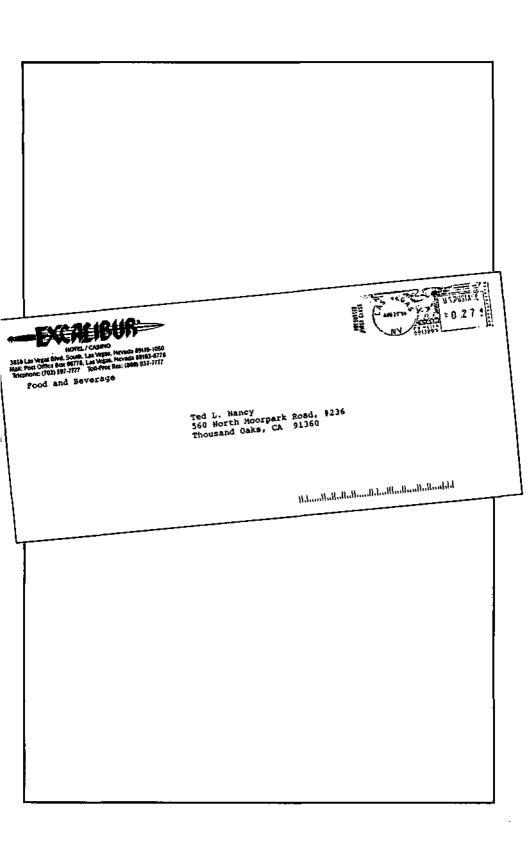

Please accept this as my deepest apologies for wasting your time with my previous letter. I am truly sorry.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES HOLIDAY INN HOTELS 3796 Lamar Memphis, TN 38195

Sept. 15, 1995

Dear Holiday Inn Hotels:

In this competitive world of competition we have to be one better than our competitors. I think a wonderful Holiday Inn Hotel promotion would be:

"Free Use Of The Housekeeping Cart." A person's stay includes unlimited use of the maid's cart in the hallway. As many soaps as you like, pens, shampoo. Just help yourself when you see the cart in the hall.

I think that this idea would skyrocket. People I know all complain that they never get enough of those little soaps and shampoos in their rooms. Whenever the see the cart they hit it. Those bath gels are great too! Where else can you get this stuff? Whenever I return from a trip I have plenty of those little conditioners and lotions. That's when I think what a great hotel!

If you advertised that a person could have free unlimited use of the maid's housekeeping cart people would flock to your hotel. What do you think? I think Holiday Inns are the best to stay at when traveling as a group. Hoping to hear from you soon. How can I find out if the Holiday Inn's have non smoking rooms?

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Your letter of September 15th has finally made its way to our Corporate office of 5 years here in Atlanta!

We have considered your creative ideas and suggestions for the "Free Use of the Housekeeping Cart". The objective of making sure our customers get everything they need white staying at Holiday Inn hotels has merit. You can imagine that untimited use of the housekeeping cart would cause quite a liability for the hotel operators and keeping the cart well-stocked would mean additional labor on hotel staff.

In order to assist our many franchisees with servicing guests while maintaining some control on their financial obligations we provide the "Forget Something" service as a rule of operation at all Holiday Inn hotels. Forget Something provides guests with many items they may need or forget while traveling — shampoos, toothbrushes, comb, brush, and so on.

Please feel free to take advantage of this service on your travels to Holiday Inn hotels in the future. And, thank you for taking the time to put your comments in writing to us. We appreciate hearing from our guests first hand!

Sincerely

P.S. Non-smoking rooms are also available at all Holiday Inn hotels. You may request these when making your reservation by calling 1-800-HOLIDAY, although it cannot be guaranteed until time of check-in.

President TOPPS BASEBALL CARD COMPANY One Whitehall Street New York, NY 10004

Jan 13, 1996

Dear Topps Baseball Card President:

I have a valuable which I would like to donate to the great Topps card company because you stand for an American baseball institution. As a boy, I flipped your cards for hours.

In 1960, I was an employee of a hotel in Miami Beach, Florida where Mr. Mickey Mantle was staying. About two in the afternoon, I was summoned to Mr. Mantle's room to deliver room service to him. He ordered an egg salad sandwich and an ice tea. I'll never forget it as long as I live.

As I was setting up the room service tray, I noticed Mr. Mantle clipping his toenails. I watched out of the corner of my eye as he clipped every toe. He had trouble with the last nail but eventually his diligence paid off. At that moment, the telephone rang and Mr. Mantle was called from his room. He told me to leave the egg salad sandwich and he would eat it later. I'll never forget his words for the rest of my life. He left the room. I dropped to the carpet and secured all the toenails that had been clipped off. There are almost ten toenails. Nine and some shavings but a full set.

I would like to donate this collectible to your card company. You have made children of all ages very happy. Perhaps this valuable could even be put on a card. They collect everything else! I think that Mr. Mantle was a great player. These toenails should be enjoyed by his millions of fans. Any time you can see something directly off a celebrity, that is better than any picture or autograph. This is something truly from his body.

Please write me and tell me who I should send this gift to for donation. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Si Berger, of the Topps Baseball Card Company, forwarded your letter of January 13th to the Hall of Fame and my attention.

We are very interested in your story of the Mickey Mantle toenails, and how you obtained them in Miami Beach in 1960 while delivering room service.

This is a fascinating tale, and we would like to know more about the condition of the nails, and what shape they are in. We have an Accessions Committee which meets periodically to review potential donations to the Hall, and we would be most interested in knowing more about the toenails, and why you wish to offer them to the museum.

If it is possible to send us a picture or the nails, we would be interested in examining them before we reach any decision.

Thank you for thinking of the historical importance of these items, and attempting to place them in an institution where they will be saved for future generations to enjoy.

President, MARS CANDY COMPANY High Street Hackettstown, NJ 07840

Dear Mars Candy Pesident,

I have been eating candy my entire life. People in my neighborhood say I can tell what kind of candy is in my mouth with my eyes blindfolded.

My favorites are Snickers. It seems you mix a lot of things togeher to get your candy. Nuts, caramel, chocolate.

My question: How can you add peanut butter to a Snickers and call it a Peanut Butter Snickers? It's no longer a Snickers. The peanut butter is a brand new candy and should get its own name.

Also, how about this for a new candy bar - picture a Butterfinger - only instead of peanut butter the center is banana. Crunchy banana. With the texture and consistency similar to a Butterfingers inside. You could call it a "Nanacrumble."

Also, the name Snickers is bad. Sounds like somebody is laughing at you. Can it be changed? How 'bout "Snunckers." Make it sound like the Hagen Dazs people with a foreign name.

Thanks for years and years of chocolate heaven. (I gave up on the skin a long time ago).

Is there any way to get information about what new candy bars you are planning to introduce? Thanks for taking the time to read my letter. I hope I hear from you.

Chocolate! It's our best snack!

Aug 9, 1995

Dear Ms. Kowalski,

Thank you very, very much for the candy certificates. What a nice gesture. I immediately went out and redeemed one for some SKITTLES and bought some STARBURST on my own. During an involuntary experimentation, I placed a STARBURST and a SKITTLES into my mouth at the same time and WOW! I was STARTLED. There's a new candy right there -- STARTLES. "Hey, everyone's getting STARTLED! STARTLES - by MARS.

According to your letter, you have people there that spend "years" making up this stuff. I came up with this in a day. Here's some other one's I thought of that day:

SINGLES BAR - Eat when you're available. With or without nuts.

Hey, one of them is good. You figure. Years of research? Hah! I thought of this in the morning. How about this: You make it — if no one buys it, you stop making it. It costs the same and takes less time. I can do this stuff daily. Any job openings? Also, the name "SKITTLES." Can it be changed? Sounds like an old Navy drinking disease. Men in WW2 used to come home with a case of the skittles. It was a mess!

Thank you very, very much for listening to my ideas, Ma'am. I know you are very, very busy there but it's nice to know that a company as busy as yours STOPS to listen to its customers. I Also think of potato chip names if it ever comes up. I look forward to your reply. The best BARS are from MARS! Also, are you related to the wrestler? I saw him grapple many, many times. VERY GOOD! If you are related than say hello to my favorite wrestler for me. He was the best at the cartwheel roll! Hey, there's a candy! The Cartwheel Roll. Thanks very mushed L. Marc.

HANES UNDERWEAR P.O. Box 3013 Winston Salem, N.C. 27102

Aug 23, 1995

Dear Underwear Executives:

I have been an avid Hanes underwear wearer for years, except for a brief period in '88 when I tried Jockey Shorts.

I have examined my underpants for many years. Always I wondered why nothing dramatic has happened in men's underpants wear for such a long time. That need not be anymore.

Hanes, I am pleased to announce that I have invented the "SIX DAY UNDERWEAR." It has three leg hole openings. Every other day, you rotate and move over one leg hole opening. At the end of three days they've become completely reversible and you begin again - thus your SIX DAY UNDERWEAR.

A cleaning agent in the fabric launders the shorts, agitating as you move about, then dispenses the lint onto your legs. When the briefs are washed, enzyme adhesives in the fabric attach themselves to just enough detergent (anionic surfactants) to last another week.

If there is any interest, I would appreciate meeting with the proper executive(s).

I am the creator of the 'NaNa Krumble' and the 'TaTa Bar.'

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Flamingo Hotel Reservations,

I am interested in checking in to your hotel the week of February 26th. I have heard that your hotel is very hospitable to its guests; especially gamblers and card players. I am both! I have a situation which I would like to address prior to my visit. I have lucky clothes which I like to gamble in.

I will be dressed as a shrimp. That is a reddish veiny body outfit with a brittle curved fantail. The top of my head will be hardish and crunchy and have tarter sauce on it. (Not real!) I will wear orangish foam shoes that match the rest of the outfit. This is my lucky clothing that I have gambled in before. (Mostly European cruises). I feel comfortable in this outfit and relaxed.

I know Flamingo goes out of its way to please their gamblers. Even if they are in shrimp clothing.

Please let me know if the February 26th date is ok for me to check in, then come down to the casino and gamble dressed as a shrimp? Thanks. I am making my travel plans now, so I must know if the week of the 26th is confirmed. It is my vacation time. I need to relax. Thank you very much for getting back to me on this.

Thank you very much for your letter of January 12, expressing an interest in staying with us at the Flamingo Hilton in Las Vegas.

It is our goal, as you state in your letter, to be hospitable to our guests and make their visit one that they will remember. It is very important to us that our guests feel comfortable and relaxed during their stay; however, regarding your request to gamble in shrimp attire, we feel that because of the high level of activity created by the outfit, it might be too distractive.

If you feel that you would like to visit us and would be able to relax and gamble in street attire, we would be very happy to host you on your upcoming vacation.

Again, Mr. Nancy, thank you very much for your correspondence, it was a pleasure to hear from you.

RESERVATIONS MANAGER SAHARA HOTEL & CASINO 2535 Las Vegas Blvd So. Las Vegas, NV 89109

Dear Sir Or Madam:

I am planning a Las Vegas excursion for the week of Sept 27th. This week can be moved, but this is the best date. (Ink Spot Fest, Coasters Grandma birthday, Cinnamon, etc.)

My question: I have my own drapes which I travel with. They are special drapes (Made in Austria - not a knit) and help me keep noise and light out. I will need NO HELP in putting these drapes up. I have taken them down and put them up MANY times. I WILL MAKE LITTLE MESS when I'm finished. All debris will be removed: pins, hooks, string, etc.

I have always admired the Sahara for it's sheer ambience. I have always liked the theme of the SAHARA. It's what Las Vegas is about! The desert theme. Many times I have walked through your beautiful hotel and have marveled at the sheer mass of it. And now it is my time to stay at this magnificent hotel. The drapes have been with me at other hotels. They are a lightweight fabric (European) and wrinkle slightly. There is a stain in the left hand corner (cat accident). I just didn't want HOUSEKEEPING to wonder what these different drapes were. Didn't want anyone to be startled.

So...please let me know If I can bring my own drapes to the Sahara Hotel the week of Sept. 27th. (Or another week if that date is busy).

Thank you very much, Sahara, for getting back to me on this. I love your driveway.

Sincerely,

Dear Sahara Hotel:

I will be traveling to Las Vegas soon and very much want to overnight stay at your fine hotel. I have seen pictures of it in windows.

I travel with my own mirror. It is a full length mirror that I keep with me always. It really does make me look the best. Other mirrors make me look puffy, which I am not!

Although it is a large mirror and breakable (8' by 3') I maneuver it around by myself. I will use the side stairwell when bringing my mirror into your hotel. I wanted to alert you so that when I'm out of the room during the day, my mirror is not accidentally removed by your housekeepers. I can not use other mirrors as they really don't make me look as good. (I am not chunky). I really like the way I look in this mirror.

Please let me know if you have rooms available for the week of March 8th. I'd like to check in with my mirror. Thanks. I love your tile.

Sincerely,

General Manager
DEBBIE REYNOLDS HOTEL & CASINO
305 Convention Center Drive
Las Vegas, NV 89109

Dear General Manager:

I am interested in staying at your hotel for one week starting February 21, 1996. I am part of a touring dinner theater group. I have a dilemma.

I look exactly like Abraham Lincoln. How can I be safeguarded so that others don't come up to me and pester me for autographs and pictures with them? It can be very annoying in restaurants to sit there looking like Abraham Lincoln and have people come up to you and say they want to take a picture with you to show their kids. I have tried to alter my appearance - I've had the mole removed - but it is still a nuisance. I have dyed my hair and beard red but to no avail. I have even taken the hat off. I still am bothered. People love Lincoln! One guy tried to give me his Lincoln car once, that's how impressed he was. I did not take it, of course. But I have been in the tunnel.

Can an area in the coffee shop be sectioned off when I take my meals? I do not drink liquids at dinner, so I am quick. Can the proper hotel staff be notified that Abraham Lincoln's double is eating and does not want to be pestered? This would be for the entire week starting February 21st. Thank you for letting me know regarding this situation, as I have to make my travel plans soon. I have long admired the Debbie Reynolds Hotel for its family atmosphere, good taste, and cornbread. That is why I chose to stay here while others are staying elsewhere. Your hotel stands for the clean Americana that this world needs. Even the lobby! Having 'Abraham Lincoln' in your hotel, he would probably not be as noticed as in other hotels. But I want to make sure. Thanks for getting back to me on this. Are there rooms available on the 21st?

Sincerely, LLCWork Ted L. Nancy (

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Your letter of January 12 has been forwarded to me, and I do empathize with your dilemma. I am sure that your appearance at this resort will be treated with the same respect that has been given to many of our celebrity guests, i.e. Rip Taylor, June Allyson, Ann Miller, Donald O'Conner, Robert Wagner, Stephanie Powers, Jane Powell - to name a few. Additionally, when not in Hollywood making a movie, Debbie Reynolds frequents the hotel on a daily basis; consequently, our staff has been exposed to quite a distinctive guest list.

Thank you for including the Debbie Reynolds Hotel & Casino in your travel plans in February; and at the present time, accommodations are available during the dates you mentioned. The prevailing rate for February 21st and 22nd is $79.00 and the 23rd through the 27th is $89.00. Please call Toll Free 800 633-1777 and our Room Reservation Department will gladly take your reservation.

Looking forward to your visit with us.

MR. HENRY RICCI Chief Of Operations DEBBIE REYNOLDS HOTEL & CASINO 305 Convention Center Drive Las Vegas, NV 89109

January 29, 1996

Dear Mr. Ricci,

Thank you for your response to my letter regarding my future visit to the Debbie Reynolds Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas and the fact that I look like Abraham Lincoln.

But, Sir, with all due respect, I cannot be compared to Rip Taylor. I am the 16th President Of The United States. He throws confetti. I am a log splitter, a not so easy accomplishment. While I have enjoyed Rip Taylor over the years, and I think he is a terrific entertainer, and I have even been sprinkled by his confetti, I am the President Of The United States. Abraham Lincoln was a great statesman. He had the dignity and respect of many. When he walked into a room, you knew you were with a leader. A person that cared for all. People treat me like Abraham Lincoln. They call me Abe or Mr. Lincoln or Mr. President. My name is Ted. So if people treat me like the President, I suppose I should be accorded the due respect. As a result...

Can I be ASSURED that I will have privacy at your hotel? Can I get a security guard to walk me to the restaurant when I take my meals? We don't need another incident! I need to know that I can have 'a little extra' when it comes to my safety. (Along with the shampoos, soaps, wash cloths, sewing kit).

Please get back to me on this. The February 21st start date is coming up fast. (Lincoln's birthday). I appreciate your response so I can make my reservations now. Also, can I take my meals in my room? Do you offer that service? And can ONLY the hotel staff know of my route through the hotel? Thank you very much, Mr. Ricci. Debbie Reynolds should know what a dedicated employee she has. It is nice that you care about your guests and that you try and accommodate them. That's important in this world. People like you make traveling easier. I will always stay at the Debbie Reynolds Hotel if I can be accommodated. Do you have a presidential suite?

Slots Department Manager HACIENDA HOTEL & CASINO 3950 Las Vegas Blvd South Las Vegas, NV 89109

Dear Slots Manager:

I understand the Hacienda Hotel will be holding an all nude slot tournament. When? Can I get ALL information regarding this event? Also, do you have any other nude gaming events? I love gambling naked. It's really the only way to insure against cheating.

Will a portion of your casino be isolated off for this totally nude gambling experience? There will be plenty of us. I can organize over 120 unclothed gamblers from our club. Slots, poker, pai-gow, roulette, craps. We want to gamble at all these naked.

Our nudists have enjoyed nude gambling all over Europe without incident excluding a misinterpreted gesture in France.

In your nude slot tournament is the dealer also naked? They would not have to be totally nude. A dealers apron would be fine. Also, what will the prizes be? In the Europe gambling event everyone got one free lucky pull. (I won)!

Please let me know when this nude slot tournament is. And can the hotel give us a package rate for our nude club of approximately 120 naked gamblers?

I look forward to hearing from you soon. Thank you.

Sincerely,

RESERVATIONS MANAGER GOLDEN NUGGET HOTEL & CASINO 129 Fremont St. Las Vegas, NV 89101

Dear Hotel Reservations Mgr:

I am planning a Western drive through excursion in an older car and will be arriving: Las Vegas, Nevada on Sept 27, 1995. I will have been on the road then five (5) days with minimal sleep. The car is a 61 year old Buick.

I was wondering if I could bring my own MATTRESS into my room and sleep on that? I will need NO HELP in bringing this mattress into the hotel. I travel with this mattress and sleep on it. I get my best sleep on this mattress and it has been recommended to me that I sleep on this mattress every chance I get. It really does work!

I will take the mattress up the side stairwell so as to avoid any confusion with the gamblers at the tables. I can weave this mattress through the side of the casino avoiding MOST of the gaming tables. Then I will be down there myself gambling (EVERYTHING: CRAPS. POKER, SLOTS!!!) as soon as I set this thing set up. (Sheets, pad, vents, etc.).

Let me know If I can bring my own mattress into the GOLDEN NUGGET beginning Sept. 27th. I can postpone drive time to accommodate the Hotel's room scheduling. In other words, this would be my best time to arrive but I'm not married to it. Thank you for letting me know about this. I need to know! This mattress is important to me and so is the Golden Nugget. I am a long time gambler there! I would like to stay with my own mattress!!

Showroom Tickets LAS VEGAS HILTON HOTEL & CASINO 3000 Paradise Rd. Las Vegas, Nevada 89109

Dear Ticket Personnel:

I have been saving to see Elvis Presley in concert at the Las Vegas Hilton for a long time. Soon I will get my chance! I want to make reservations for his Sept 11, 1996 show. Can I get a good seat? How much is it? I need one.

I have always admired Mr. Presley's singing even though he is heavier today. Will he be singing his earlier favorites "Hound Dog" and the suede shoe song? I like those. Dog" and the suede shoe song?

I have seen pictures of your wonderful hotel and the encased Elvis suit. I'm going to swim in your pool too. How much are golf and crap lessons?

I also understand it will be very hot in Las Vegas during that time. I hope this will be an indoor concert as I am allowed only 2 hours in scorching heat before I blister. I have a condition where I must wear a safety pad.

Please send me info: Hotel room rate for one night, Sept 11, 1996. I may need an extra ottoman for my oversized feet. And ticket price for Elvis Presley in concert the same night. (A good seat, please). I want to finally see this show! Thank you.

Las Vegas, NV 89126-0448

Dear Palace Station:

I want to check into your hotel on Jan 31, 1996. I travel with my own soda pop vending machine. I find this soda machine to be far superior to any soda machines in any hotel I have ever stayed in. It is good for my thirst and I carry most flavors. (Yours does not have orange!)

Is this a problem, checking in with it and bringing it into my room? I can lift it myself even though it is a standard size soft drink vending machine. This soda machine is important to me, both for physical comfort and also for mental relaxation. It will stay in my room for my thirst only. Then I won't have to go into the hallway with a bunch of quarters. I am not selling soda.

So...please let me know of I can check in with my own soda machine the night of January 31st? Thanks, Palace Station, I have heard that you are exceptionally nice to your guests and go out of your way to accommodate them when it comes to their own vanding machines. That is why I will ALWAYS stay at the Palace Station Hotel. And I will always return my room key promptly.

Jul 15, 1995

Dear Sir Or Madam:

I would like to stay at your hotel and would like to know if it's possible if I bring my own chair? I would be staying for one week (Week of Sept 27th preferably) and have a special vinyl easy chair that I like to relax on.

I would need minimal help in getting in and out of the hotel. (I can carry it myself most places). However, I would probably need to take the room door off at the hinges (I have had to do this many times).

I will make little commotion in the lobby as I can bring this chair up the side stairwell. I may need a bellman to help with the cushions.

Plese let me know if bringing my own chair into your hotel would be ok for the duration of my Guest stay. Thank you. Circus Circus is the best!

General Manager RINGLING BROTHERS CIRCUS 267 South Tamiami Trail Nokomis, Fla. 34275

Nov 25, 1995

Hello Ringling Circus,

I am 2 foot 3 inches tall, weigh 65 pounds, and perform as PIP THE MIGHTY SQUEAK. I will perform in your circus for up to 3 hours balancing things on me, dancing, mimicking, and generally being entertaining. I do a self contained act where I stand in one small area and sing, dance, skate around, twirl, balance, tumble, stop and start, run in different directions in various speeds coming to abrupt, extended, sliding stops, generally entertain. The show is 2 hours and 25 minutes long. I can lift 80 pounds bent over.

I lift a 100 pound woman on my back. (From audience). I shuffle cards, dance, I tell stories, I balance an orange on my forehead and move about for 2 hours and 25 minutes. I can break this up into 3 minute increments for smaller circumstances. Or I can do two 1 hour and 10 minute shows. But with the longer show you get 5 more minutes. The kids love me!

I charge $550.00 which includes my 20 costume changes. I bring a little screen to change behind, then come out and perform again. Nobody can see me change behind the screen if it is situated right. People love me!

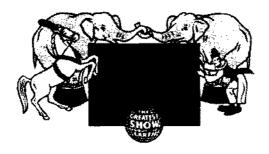

I wish to perform in The Ringling Brothers Circus. I admire your circus for a long time and now wish to be in it. Audiences have flocked throughout Europe and the Bahamas, Canada and Tonga to see my specialty show. I am truly entertaining. I stretch, shout, flex, call out names, lift a man from the audience and move in a circle with him. I hum. I bark.

Please let me know who I apply to at Ringling Brothers to join your circus? Send me the forms and direct me to the proper personnel. Thank you. I can be reached at 560 No. Moorpark Rd. #236, Thousand Oaks, CA 91360. Thanks:

12/11/95

Dear Mr. Orfalea,

As the Chairperson of the Board Of Kinkos Copy Centers I thought I would approach you with this suggestion. I am a Siamese Twin. My name is Ted, my brother's name is Lyle. We are connected at the shoulders. We do not face each other, so we both can do TWO DIFFERENT jobs at the SAME TIME. We would like to work in a Kinkos.

This is the type of work both myself and Lyle can easily do. I can copy while he rings up a customer. I think a Siamese Twin working at your * Kinkos would be terrific publicity. Copies by a twin. Maybe that could be your advertising. Talk about the ultimate copy!

Anyway, what do you say? We are good workers and just want the chance to blend in. We are not looking for any special favors. Just a chance to show that we can be valuable employees. I thought I would write to you since you are certainly in a high enough position that you could hire us.

Believe me it is tough being a Siamese Twin but we try and get along the best way. It's VERY hard to find employment. Most people gawk at us. Luckily only one of us can see that. Is there any job openings for a qualified employee(s)? We are for real and very anxious to blend in. Thanks.

Dear MS. McCracken,

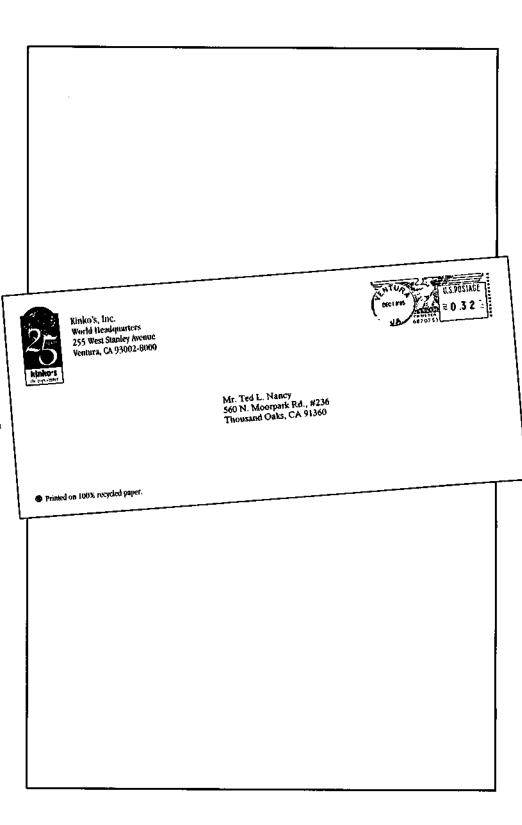

I would like to thank Kinkos so much for having the Chairperson of Kinkos address my special needs. I (we) would like to come in for an interview except there is one problem for now. My Siamese twin brother, Lyle, hurt his back playing basketball. He's all laid out. He won't be on his feet for another 4 weeks. So to come in myself while he is groggy from medication won't make much sense. Would it? He is an avid sportsman while I like to play my trombone. Also, he may be going on vacation.

I really appreciate the opportunity to work at Kinkos. I can sort incoming faxes while Lyle helps a customer. Lyle can staple and collate, while I stamp hands. We really can do 2 jobs for the same price as 1 1/2 people. (That's what we tell people. We are a lot of fun. We try and keep a good sense of humor). We wear 1 shirt. So...when Lyle is better can we come in for an appointment? When will be the best time?

Please let me know what date in February (after the 24th) we could see you for an appointment. I want you to meet both of us and see what good workers I (we) are am. Thank you very much for reaching out to 2 people that really can get along as 2 people. I'll bet you 2 regular people argue more than us. Thank you very much.

Jan 13, 1996

Dear University Of Texas,

I was told to write to you about confirming my Feb 21, 1996 speaking engagement at your college. Let me introduce myself. I am 8 feet 3 inches tall and perform as Topps The Slender Giant. I have been with the circus for half a century. I talk at schools and conventions (limited to these two only) about my circus experiences. (Will not talk about kitchen incident). I performed for over eight years as Topps the Shoeless Giant. Two years as Topps The Heavy Giant. One year as Topps the Stumbling Giant. I will talk about that. I was with European, Bahamian, and Canadian circuses. I have performed before the King Of Tonga, His Majesty King Taufa'Ahau Tupou IV. And I have Palace stationary. We thought we had shared a same address. Some people call me a Lou Rawls look alike.

I speak against the perils of bad living; Navy living. Cigar shop living. I am open about all my experiences. I hold nothing back. In this talk you hear a frank and candid account of the circus and carnival life, as sick as it is. I think I am an education for students and teachers, and all alike. It is a 90 minute talk followed by questions on what it was like to be a circus performer, a giant, very thin, very heavy, a marijuana addict, conjugal visits, an alcoholic (Schnapps), and a telemarketer. The talk is very entertaining, sprinkled with colorful recollections. There are no expletives! I do make one (1) foul gesture, but only as part of a story.

Please write and let me know if the Feb 21 date is confirmed, as I was told. I also need to know about publicity. Thank you very much. My mailing address is 560 No. Moorpark Rd. #236 Thousand Oaks, CA 91360.

I want to be your mascot - THE MINNESOTA TWIN. I come out and I have a mechanical "twin" that duplicates every movement I do. People love it! I dance around, move about, run, stop, start, tumble. The mechanical twin makes every move I do.

I could enter the field during the 7th inning stretch or just flail around on the sidelines between pitches. I would sprint, gallop, flutter, flap, twist, AND shout, and do the wave. It's up to you.

Please let me know who I can show my "Minnesota Twin" routine to when I arrive in Minnesota. Should I just come to the stadium? And who do I talk to about being your new mascot? Thank you.

Dear Minnesota Vikings:

I was told I needed to get permission from you to do my "Minnesota Viking" in my performance piece on nationwide television.

I am dressed as a Minnesota Viking. I wear a Viking outfit — horns, leather shorts, spear, woolly skin, open toe shoes — but talk like a Minnesotan and make references to living in Minneapolis. (The snow, shivering, bobsledding). This is a positive upbeat portrayal of a Minnesota Viking. There are no vulgarities, no profanities. Although I do make one small obscene gesture, but only as part of a poem. I am a long time fan of the Minnesota Vikings so I would do nothing that would even be considered disparaging as far as the logo goes. Remember, this is on television.

So, I need to secure permission from you to do this portrayal before I can do the television show. Thanks, Minnesota Vikings. Please let me know as soon as you can. The show is at the end of January. Appreciate it.

Dear Ted.

Thank you for your letter requesting our permission to do your "Minnesota Viking" performance piece on nationwide television.

However, without a little more information, we cannot give you the permission you seek. We would like to see a video preview of your performance so we can see the context of the use of "The Minnesota Viking".

The Vice President of Marketing, Stew Widdess, would also like to talk to you about your performance. You can reach him at 612-828-6500 ext. 245.

Please contact us at the above number or mail us a video with your phone number attached and we will contact you.

Sincerely,

American College of Sports Medicine P.O. BOX 1440 Indianapolis, In 46206

Dear American College of Sports Medicine,

I am a kinetic engineer with an interest in "surgically enhanced athletic performance." I believe it is possible to increase an athlete's performance by surgically modifying his or her body. The following procedures are the ones I wish to pioneer:

Amphibulation (Am-fib-u-la-shun)—By webbing a swimmers hands, a good swimmer could become a world class athlete. Is this any different than an actor receiving hair plugs to increase his potential? If actors can get hairplugs why can't I make my hand bigger?

Extentiadigitation (Ex-ten-sha-dij-a-ta-shun) By elongating a swimmer's fingers he can reach the finish line .015 seconds quicker — sometimes the difference between first and second place. Or fifth and sixth.

Podialongation (Po-dee-all-long-a-shun) — Adding several inches of bouncy flesh to the sole of the foot will increase a basketball player's leaping ability and reach, allowing him to become a better rebounder. Is this any different than an exotic dancer receiving breast implants to get better jobs?

I will only focus on these three for now. MY OUESTION: Is there anyone currently practicing these types of procedures, and can you please direct me to any (plastic) surgeons interested in working in a now-forming sports clinic specializing in performance enhancement surgery?

I thank you in advance for your assistance. Please direct me in the right direction.

Sincerely,

Tell I. Nancy

Dear Ted:

Thank you for contacting the American College of Sports Medicine. Unfortunately, we do not have dispensable information on the subject you requested.

The American College of Sports Medicine, headquartered in Indianapolis, is the largest sports medicine organization in the world, with nearly 15,000 members involved in science, medicine, education and sports.

We do have a monthly journal entitled Medicine and Science in Sparts and Exercise (MSSE) which contains clinical studies and original investigations. Additionally, each year there is a supplemental issue containing over 1200 presentation abstracts from the ACSM Annual Meeting. This is probably the best place to check for the information that you have requested. It is available in any medical library or most large public and university libraries.

In addition, you may consider contacting the American Council on Exercise at Tel.: (619) 535-8227.

Thank you for thinking of ACSM. Good luck.

Administrative Offices EMERSON COLLEGE 100 Beacon Street Boston, MA 02116

Jan 13, 1996

Dear Administrative Offices:

I was told that you are seeking my services to speak at the Emerson College Student Union on March 8, 1996.

To describe myself:

I have been hit by lighting 6 times. Twice in the head, once in the back, three times on the rest of my body. I speak about what it was like to be out for 20 minutes, lifted off the ground, and in a state of electrical panic. I also speak about how for 2 days I thought my name was Mark. And, what it was like to visit the other side half a dozen times. In my candid talk, I tell what it's like to be the only man in America to have survived 6 lightning attacks. There is one man in England that has been hit more. I make a reference to him in the talk.

I also talk about my problems incurred at the result of lightning hitting me behind the ear. Double vision, night sweats, a rash. Also, what it was like to fall off a building. I was told that you wanted my speaking services for the evening of March 8th.

Thank you, Emerson. Please contact me and let me know what housing you have secured for me. Also...I CANNOT be around any coffee makers. I must make my travel arrangements soon, so please write and let me know what time my talk is on the 8th and who I am to meet to take me there. Thanks.

Sincerely,

Submissions Department HIGHLIGHTS FOR CHILDREN MAGAZINE 2300 West 5th Ave PO Box 16278 Columbus, OH 43216

Dear Submissions Department:

I have a freckle on my back, that when I stretch, looks like Anthony Quinn. I would like to sell my back as part of a magazine article. People love to look at my freckles. Should I send in the picture of my back for your magazine? Obviously I can't sell my back. Can I?

I have a few other freckles on my arm and a mole that when bunched together kinda looks like Richard Gere. When not bunched, Andy Griffith. If I brush the gray hair over the mole it looks like Gere. No gray hair, Andy Griffith. As I look at it now in the light, it looks like Andy Griffith.

Do you want to see it for your magazine? It would look good on your "fun" page. Who should I send the pictures to? Everyone always asks me to show them my freckles and moles. (And blemishes). The doctor said with age, as the freckle bleaches out, it could look like Dick Van Patten. I really enjoy your magazine. I am a long time reader. This is just a fun thing with these freckles. So, please let me know if I should send in a picture of my back and arms for your magazine. Thanks very much.

GENERAL MANAGER GUTHRIE THEATER 725 Vineland Place Minneapolis, Minnesota 55403

Jul 15, 1995

Dear Sir:

I am interested in speaking with someone regarding staging a production of my play prior to its Broadway run. (Dates secure).

The play is a one man show: "JAMES WHITMORE IS HAL HOLBROOK." And it deals with the esteemed actor's life in his portrayal of one man shows. I would need to hire a local crew and possibly some talent if the play is opened up. (May be by the time of booking).

I would need the theater for a total run of seven (7) weeks but I can be slightly flexible with this. I would also need a parrot which I can secure in your area. And I would need a suitable dressing room for the actor who is playing James Whitmore.

Please direct me to the person that I may speak with regarding financial details: how much the charge would be for rent of your theater, hiring of your local crews, renting costumes, bee wranglers, etc. I would also need to know if your prop department carries certain props: a medicine ball and a dental chair.

Hal Holbrook has had an great career playing one man shows: Mark Twain, Herbert Hoover, Teddy Roosevelt, etc. Now we give this great actor a glossy tribute to his own life.

Hoping to speak with you soon, I remain...

Your friend in theater.

Jan 29, 1996

Dear Star Magazine:

I have a corn on my foot that resembles Shelley Fabares. How can I get my corn submitted to your magazine for inclusion? This is a standard size corn that closely resembles the "Coach" star. When I turn my foot in the light, the resemblance is uncanny. You would think Shelley Fabares is on my foot. (Can be mistaken for Ellen Degeneres if looked at fast. Buy why)?

My podiatrist said he will take off this corn soon. He says it is not healthy to keep a corn on your foot that long, even if it looks like a celebrity. I'd like to let the world see it before it is removed. How can I do this? Please let me know how I can send in the picture of my corn that looks like Shelley Fabares? Thanks.

Customer Relations BALLYS HOTEL AND CASINO 3645 Las Vegas Blvd So. Las Vegas, Nevada 89109

Dear Customer Relations Dept:

I would just like to say what a pleasant experience your HOUSEKEEPING DEPARTMENT was during my recent stay.

Usually people have complaints about maid dervice but I want to PRAISE the fine men and women of Housekeeping. Every day there were fresh towels and sheets in my room.

The housekeeping people were courteous in respecting my "Do not Disturb" or "Now For Maid Service" sign on my door.

One day, the minute I had turned my sign over from "DO NOT DISTURB" TO "MAID SERVICE PLEASE" the cleaning gal was right there. There wasn't a wait of 15 seconds before she was at my door with her ammonias and washcloths. It was like she was like a big cat outside ready to prance at the moment my sign was turned around. My room was cleaned within moments and I was free to start messing it up again by 10:30 in the morning.

Thank you, BALLYS, for a most wonderful experience in the maid department.

The Housekeeping staff was the most efficient I have ever seen. I asked for clean towels on a daily basis and they were there. There was always soaps and toilet paper and shampoos. Every day. I also noticed that small soap slivers were not removed but put aside on the tub. (VERY GOOD!) I use these!

Thanks Again,

GENERAL MANAGER
MGM GRAND HOTEL & CASINO
3799 Las Vegas Blvd So.
Las Vegas, NV 89109

Aug 4, 1995

Dear General Manager, Sir:

In a world of people always complaining, sometimes it's nice to STOP and single out a department for EXEMPLARY BEHAVIOR. I am talking about your CAB STAND CALLERS. I was a frequent visitor to your hotel last week many, many times. It seems that every night for almost a week I was at your hotel gambling. Slots, Keno, Pow Gai, Poker, Roulette (won on this), 21, Dice.

Every time I came out of the hotel to leave for any reason your fellas running the CAB CALL STAND would go through a complete military type drill to secure me a cab. They would blow their whistle a short shrill, move their right arm fast, get that cab moving towards me. In general, making sure I had a taxi cab and I had it almost the minute my feet hit the outside pavement.

In a world of slow moving people this DEPT. was fast, fast fast. My cab was right there ready for me to be whisked away as soon as I gave him the cab "nod:" I come out of the hotel, move my head, he moves his head in recognition and the whole cab rolling to the curb operation begins: Come out of hotel - move head - cab caller nods at me - he blows whistle, moves arm - cab moves up.) Then he opens the door, smiles at me, tells the cab where I am going. He did everything but put a whisk broom on me. I think this is the most incredible service. It's a person making sure another person is being properly taken care of by still a another person. All strangers. Thank you, MGM GRAND, for this most unbelievable experience. (No more Showboat!)

Please let me know that the CAB STAND DEPT. was thanked. It is very important to ME that I KNOW that THEY KNOW that SOMEONE has appreciated THEIR dedication to YOUR hotel. These were courteous men (and WOMEN). They deserve a little recognition! One fella was almost hit by a cab. I noticed him rubbing his elbow when I looked back. Thanks again for making my experience at the MGM GRAND a GREAT ONE!!!

All the best,

Customer Relations BALLY'S HOTEL & CASINO 3645 Las Vegas Blvd. So. Las Vegas, NV 89109

September 7, 1995

Dear Bally's,

I had a very nice experience in your hotel last week and I thought you should know about it. I am talking about your COFFEE SHOP BUS STAFF. I was so impressed with your hotel and this group of people that I had to sit down and compliment you.

I visit Las Vegas often. I always try and visit Bally's when I come to Las Vegas. I definitely feel Bally's is the best place to gamble. Last week I had the occasion to find myself at Bally's five or six times during the week. There was a group of us and whenever anybody said "Where do you want to go?" everybody chimed in "Bally's."

I had a most pleasant experience with your coffee shop bus boys. These were courteous, fine young people who cleared away my dirty dishes immediately after enjoying a meal. Cups, silverware, saucers, cigarettes, dirty napkins - all cleared away as soon as I nodded my head. I HAVE NEVER SEEN THIS KIND OF QUICK SERVICE BEFORE. These fine people were at my table almost immediately and I did NOT have to wait LONG before my area was policed and I was ready to start ordering a desert or whatever. (And messing up again).

In a world of people not caring I thought this group should be SINGLED OUT for meritorious service. And complimented. I bet not too many people compliment the bus boys; I think they deserve a pat on the back every now and then.

Please let me know that the bus staff was thanked. This is very important to me. These fine employees make a hotel like Bally's proud to be in. You better believe that cleanliness and getting your dishes away quick is important to a visitor. Don't you like your dirty dishes cleared right away? Thank you, Bally's, for making my many times in your coffee shop a great time before I started my gambling fun. Your bus staff is the best that I have ever seen. They deserve recognition. Thanks

Sincerely,

GENERAL MANAGER SANDS HOTEL & CASINO 3355 Las Vegas Blvd So. Las Vegas, NV 89109

Dear Sands General Manger:

It's not often in this fast moving, steam ahead, world that we really get the chance to stop and compliment someone. In a world of fastly moving people sometimes it's just nice to single out ONE EMPLOYEE who SLOWED DOWN and made your stay more comfortable.

I am talking about the MAITRE'D at your George Wallace show. I had a special vinyl easy chair (Art Linkletter brand) that this fine young man accommodated me with. He removed the chair that was at the table and had MY CHAIR put in its place so I could watch the show on my chair. (I only needed help with the cushions. Bellhop carried.) Although this took time and a few people had to be moved about, this MAITRE'D was most gracious at every moment maneuvering my oversized chair around the aisle and jockeying people around. He listened to no one's comments around him. Eventually everyone was squeezed in.

And he would TAKE NO GRATUITY for this. He simply commented that it was his pleasure to assist me with this chair. And there was concern when he thought he ripped the vinyl but he did not. He examined the area very carefully! He did bang (slice?) his elbow. He was grimacing when I left the show in the middle to use the facilities. There was more help here with the chair in and out of the aisle; more people's comments.

In a world of PEOPLE WHO DON'T CARE - this very nice gentleman was most courteous, elegant, and caring. I would not hesitate to come back to the Sands again and see shows and gamble all night. (I am changing from The Showboat). Please thank this Maitre' D (I don't know his name. But I believe he is the Upper echelon Maitre 'D that the others work under. I did see him bark at the others). Please let me know if he was properly thanked. This is important to me because he was so gracious. Thank you very much!

Thanks again.

PRESIDENT
PURINA DOG CHOW
Checkerboard Square, St. Louis, MO
63164

Dear Sir:

I am a happy Dog Chow user for years. My dog, "Cinnamon" is 26 years old (no kidding!) and she's been kept on Purina the whole time. Except for the beginning when she was on a dog food that she didn't like!

I would like to know if you make a Purina chow food for senior dogs? My vet can't belive she's this old but he has her birth records. He scratches his head every time I bring her in. June 22, 1971, born in St. Petersburg, Fla. No zip back then.

He says she could easily live another four years. It's only 48 months, he says. That would make her 30 and the oldest dog he's ever seen! But "Cinnamon" is doing great and we love her! He says that her diet is the best. That's what's keeping her up. I tell him it's Purina. He says that's because Purina is the best.

I just wanted to tell the president of Purina Dog Chow about my (almost) 30 year old dog. And his dog food that keeps her going.

Thanks for years of great dog food. I'm for Purina all the way!

Dear Mr. Nancy:

We are happy to hear that throughout her long life, Cinnamon has enjoyed Purina Dog Chow and would like to thank you for your nice comments. Your taking the time to write us is very much appreciated.

Unfortunately, in this day and age of hectic life-styles, individuals don't always take the time to send thank you or complimentary letters to other individuals, much less a large company, such as ours. Believe me, we are very pleased you thought of us.

We have enclosed some information about our dog food products which we hope will assist you in determining which product might be best suited for your dog's particular needs. We would suggest that you share this information with your veterinarian as your veterinarian is in the best position to examine your dog and determine if your she has special dietary needs.

If you decide to change your Cinnamon's present diet, we recommend that you add a small amount of the new product gradually increasing the new product and reducing the current product you're feeding until she is totally on the new Purina product. This changeover should take approximately seven to ten days. By changing your her diet in this manner, we would not expect any intestinal problems to occur.

As an expression of our thanks for writing, we'd like you to accept the enclosed coupons to use with future purchases of Purina products. Don't hesitate to contact us at any time should you feel we can be of any assistance to you.

GREYHOUND BUS COMPANY 350 North St. Paul Dallas, Texas 75201

Aug 31, 1995

Dear Greyhound Bus People:

I have a situation which I would like to address to you and get your approval on. I was told to write to the corporate offices after I inquired about this to one of your ticket personnel.

I am part of a traveling dinner theater group. In noticing my itinerary for our performances I realized that I will be exiting your bus with little time to spare to get to the theater. This is on about five different cities. Therefore, I will have to stay in costume throughout my bus ride so I can make it to the theater in time. I WILL NOT HAVE TIME TO EXIT THE BUS, CHANGE INTO COSTUME, AND GET TO THE THEATER ON TIME.

I will be dressed like a giant stick of butter. That is the costume I wear. I did not want to alarm the other passengers, or your employees when I check in dressed as a large butter. I play Morris, the Giant Butter in this exciting new play about the food industry.

The costume is completely flexible; it bends when I sit in your comfortable cruiser seat. Once seated, I will look like any other passenger (except for the top of my head which is a square yellow piece about 4 inches higher than a normal head). It's only when I use the restroom that other passengers will notice a giant butter walking down the aisle.

I cannot change in the bus as I need help in getting the butter costume on. (Over 57 buttons). I therefore would have to check in dressed like a giant butter and board the bus this way. I would exit the bus dressed in my costume so I can make it to the performance on time. What do you think? Can I get approval for this? I have always heard that Greyhound Bus Lines goes out of its way to please its passengers. This would surely help me. Otherwise I would have to cancel this play because I simply could not get dressed in time. I need this work!

Thank you, Greyhound, for being a company that cares about it's riders. I am anxious to get my (19 city) tickets now.

Respectfully,

Lower L. Nancy

I, and my companions, would like to book a cruise on your American Hawaii Cruises. We are planning our fall cruise schedule now. We are three (3) Gentlemen traveling (friends only) that are considered a group for traveling purposes. But not a group for other purposes. Our problem: We have a disability that I would like to bring to your attention.

Myself, and my 3 companions \star suffer from Tourettes Syndrome. We have the highest level, the most severe form of the disease. Let me tell you it's not easy. There can be embarrassments from this at times.

I can control the disease in written communication by using the * key when I feel the urge to spew out a slew of loud obscenities. Vocally, I can not. When traveling we try to be in areas that are the least embarrassing to this situation. Like around elders, etc. But it's not always easy.

I would appreciate any courtesies you can give myself and my fellow travelers regarding what we can do/or expect regarding the shouting of obscenities. I have always enjoyed American Hawaii Cruises from hearing about them. It is * the kind of cruise I would like to go on. We all need to get away a little.

Please let me know, American Hawaii,  what can be done to possibly control the situation. (At least let the crew know).

If you feel, this would disrupt your cruise (some people are going on a romantic cruise, so I can understand) then we'll arrange some other form of Fall enjoyment. I can understand your position. We'd love to take our cruise. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Ted L. Nancy

Dear Mr. Nancy:

I am in receipt of your letter dated September 6, 1995.

I am pleased to know that you and your travelling companions are considering American Hawaii Cruises for your fall vacation. However, I regret to inform you that our sailings for the remainder of 1995 are currently full.

Thank you for your inquiry.

Dec 6, 1995

Dear Reservations Desk:

I would like to check in to your resort but I have an affliction I need to address to you. I am considered a level 4 bed wetter. Although in six months I will be reclassified a level 3. I am also a heavy sleeper. I take MANY naps during the day. What can I expect in the way of assistance in this area?

I am sorry I have this. Believe me, it's been a real problem for me. I try to deal with it the best way I know how. I am an adult (56 years old) and this is an embarrassing situation. I like to let the hotel know so that I don't damage anything. (Plants, dresser, etc.).

I chose your resort because of the service I know you give guests that wet their bed AND because of the city you're in: Carefree. (Is that the same as the gum)? I thought you would be receptive to my problem. I want to come for 6 days.

Can you provide me with a bed wetting sheet, or should I bring my bed wetting kit? This is MY rubber sheet, twist ties, mattress pads, disinfectants.

Thank you, Boulders Resort for getting back to me on this. I appreciate any concern you can give me in this area. Let me know as soon as you can as I have to secure my reservations. Also...do you have smoking rooms?

Sincerely.

Dear Mr. Nancy,

Thank you for your recent correspondence and your request for information and accommodations at The Boulders. I sincerely appreciate your concern regarding advising us of your condition and want you to know that we will do everything possible to maximize your comfort while staying with us. We take pride in our ability to handle special requests and upon learning of your confirmed reservation will secure the necessary supplies to accommodate your needs. I am afraid that I did not understand your comment regarding damage to plants or furniture that might occur due to your condition. I would appreciate if you could advise me of what steps we might take to reduce the risk of this happening.

We do allow smoking in our guest rooms, however it is not permitted in our dining facilities. If I can be of further assistance please do not hesitate to contact me directly. We look forward to seeing you soon.

Dear Reservations Dept:

I am 2 feet 3 inches tall and appear around the world as "Pip The Mighty Squeak."

MY OUESTION: I want a room at your hotel for the week of Feb 21-28. Because of my size, I need to know if special accommodations can be arranged for me? I am very tiny.

I need a 3 foot bed and a dresser that's only 1 foot high. (So I can reach). Also, do you have a shower head that is 30 inches off the floor? A regular shower head blows me all over the tub.

I know these are unusual expectations but sometimes I can be accommodated. It's tough, but it can happen if the hotel is equipped for micro people. My act consists of me in a teacup held by a giant. That is how small I am.

I have traveled throughout the world as "Pip The Mighty Squeak," an act like no other. I stop and start in many directions. Some hotels have small furniture and beds. One even had a tiny soda machine!

So, let me know if I can be accommodated for the week of Feb 21. I need to make my reservations now, so please let me now if these dates are available. Thank you for your prompt reply.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Nancy,

Thank you for your interest in The Beverly Hills Hotel. We do have universal access rooms available for the requested dates.

These rooms are equipped with hand held shower heads that have moderate water pressure. Although we do not carry 1 foot high dressers, the dressers in the rooms are very low and spacious. The beds in the guest rooms are slightly over 6 feet, however, we are confident that our concierge will be able to assist you in locating a smaller bed for your room at the lowest cost possible to you.

We have enclosed a brochure including our room rates for your perusal. Our universal access rooms are in the deluxe guestroom with balcony or suite category only. If you would like to make a reservation, please call us at 1-800-283-8885. As we have a 24 hour cancellation policy, we would need a credit card to guarantee the reservation.

If we can be of further assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sep 5, 1996

Dear Reservations,

I wish to make a reservation for your fine hotel for 2 nights, Oct 6th and 7th. I want to explain a situation which I want to make you aware of.

I travel with 2200 red ants. Although these are loose ants, they will be kept ONLY in the hotel room. All 2200 red ants will be accounted for and NONE will leave the hotel room or be left in the room. I will keep all sweets tied with a twist tie bag. (Including pretzels). They will not venture far away from the bags. Trust me.

These ants ARE NOT pets, so your NO PETS rule should not apply. I travel with these ants for a reason. I watch them. It calms me down. I watch for hours as they work, then I am refreshed and ready to go. I like watching them moving about the room. They carry a crumb across the room and I watch this. It has a very calming effect on me and helps me with my business.

You'd be surprised what a conversation piece over 2000 ants can be during a business meeting. When I have a business visitor to my room on Oct 6th or 7th we will both watch these ants then get down to business.

I will describe these red ants to you. They are 1/16th of an inch long, and weigh less then 1/10th of an ounce per handful. They are reddish with some spotting, and have ant features. I do not drink, I don't smoke, I don't take drugs. (Once a mushroom). I have red ants to relax me. Please confirm with me my reservation.

THE DELTA QUEEN STEAMBOAT CO. 30 Robin Street Wharf New Orleans, Louisiana 70130-1890

Nov 29, 1995

Dear Delta Steamboat:

I will be arriving by ferry soon and I would like to book passage on a Delta Queen Steamboat cruise. I am very impressed with your brochure and from what people tell me about your magnificent vessel. LOU!!!

I have an affliction which sometimes makes traveling uncomfortable and I think you should know about it so we can figure out how best to handle it. I have a barking disease. Level 4. I can control most obscenities but the shouting goes in cycles, themes. Sometimes, it's a slew of obscenities, sometimes just vulgarities. I am truly sorry. I wish it wasn't this way but I must deal with it. For the past 14 months I bark out men's names. I cannot control this. I can control some of the things I bark out. I no longer yell out full obscenities. But now this is the shape the disease takes.

In writing, which is the way I prefer to communicate in public, I can control the urge by writing down the name when I feel the urge to spew. Will this be a problem? I can understand people not wanting to be around someone yelling. I know it's uncomfortable for all when folks are strolling, having a quiet, romantic evening, etc. I do take medication which controls a lot, but I prefer to communicate with my writing pads. However, I do want to take the steamboat cruise to relive the days of Mark Twain, and his jumping frog. So...I hope this won't be a problem to other seagoers.

Please give me information so that we can discuss where I can stand on the boat so as not to affect the most people. FRED!!!! Thank you, Delta Steamer. Many people have taken your cruises and reported back as to how much they enjoyed it. I'd like to take your cruise. I am anxious to sail. STEVE!!!!

Hey, thanks again. Please send me info: times, schedules, clothing, food servings, cabin arrangements, etc. I am waiting. MARK!!!!

Dear Mr. Nancy:

I have received your letter of November 29, 1995. Yes, you are indeed welcome aboard our vessels and we will do all we can to make things comfortable for you. It is kind of you to be considerate of others. There would not be a public place we could say none of the other passengers would go, but you could decide if you wanted to leave an area. The only place that would be private, is one of our cabins with a private veranda. This might be something you'd like to consider. Certainly, we would be glad to book you in any cabin you choose.

Communicating through writing on board would not be a problem. When you are ready to book, a travel agent would be helpful, and we will document your reservation so the boat is ready to accommodate you in every way possible.

You mentioned you have our brochure, if you have any further questions, please contact us and we'll be happy to help you with your Steamboatin' adventure.

Dear Ritz-Carlton,

I will be making reservations soon to stay overnight at your hotel. During my visit I will be involved in several very important meetings in your bar area and restaurant with potential investors.

As part of my presentation, I will be checking in and taking my meetings dressed as a ripe banana. Business decisions will be based on my presentation, and I must be certain that while meeting in the bar area and restaurant I am left undisturbed by curious patrons. Perhaps a booth in the back? I don't mind mingling with people in the foyer or lobby.

I look forward to your reply regarding my privacy when dressed as a banana, and a mutually prosperous stay.

RE: INK SPOT STOCK

Dear Mr. Mayor:

I had heard that you were sponsoring in your beautiful city of West Hollywood the event "THE INK SPOTS DAY" On Sept 27, 1995. I understand this is an all day fair honoring the Ink Spots and their contribution to American song.

How can I get fair tickets and what is the lodging like that time of year? I have long been a fan of the Ink Spoits and want to take part in this great celebration.

I think it's a wonderful idea to have an entire day built around the Ink Spots. "INK SPOT STOCK." I heard that there will be many food vendors, portable johns, and possibly the group itself will be signing autographs. Will all the Spots be there for the entire event?

Please send me information (Weekend package, hotel parking, hand stamping, etc.) on "INK SPOT STOCK."

West Hollywood is a beautiful city. It's what America is about. Quiet, wholesome, good tuna melts. Thanks for putting on this great event. It means a lot to some of us.

ALOHA AIRLINES P.O. Box 30028 Honolulu, Hawaii 96820 Aug 31, 1995

Dear Aloha Airlines People:

I have a situation which I would like to address to you and get your approval on. I was told to write to the corporate offices after I inquired about this to one of your ticket personnel.

I am part of a traveling dinner theater group. In noticing my itinerary for our performances I realized that I will be exiting your airplane with little time to spare to get to the theater. This is on about five different cities. Therefore, I will have to stay in costume throughout my plane ride so I can make it to the theater in time. I WILL NOT HAVE TIME TO EXIT THE PLANE, CHANGE INTO COSTUME, AND GET TO THE THEATER ON TIME.

I will be dressed like a giant rotting radish. That is the costume I wear. I did not want to alarm the other passengers, or your employees when I check in dressed as a large radish. play Angelo, the Rotting Radish in this exciting new play about the food industry.

The costume is completely flexible; it bends when I sit in your comfortable seat. Once seated, I will look like any other passenger (except for the top of my head which is a round red piece about 4 inches higher than a normal head). It's only when I use the restroom that other passengers will notice a giant radish walking down the aisle.

I cannot change in the plane as I need help in getting the radish costume on. (Over 157 buttons). I therefore would have to check in dressed like a giant radish and board the plane this way. I would exit the plane dressed in my costume so I can make it to the performance on time. What do you think? Can I get approval for this? I have always heard that Aloha Airlines goes out of its way to please its passengers. This would surely help me. Otherwise I would have to cancel this play because I simply could not get dressed in time. I need this work! Thank you, Aloha, for being a company that cares about it's passengers. I am anxious to get my (19 city) tickets now.

Respectfully, Ell. Zang

Dear Mr. Nancy:

In response to your letter of August 31, 1995, we will need to know which Aloha Airlines flights you plan to take. Could you please provide me with that information?

While we generally do not set any criteria on our passengers' dress, safety may be an issue. In the case of an emergency, the rotting radish might impede a rapid egress from the aircraft of yourself and other passengers. If the possibility of this exists, then we would probably be unable to accept you in costume. I do not know how we can evaluate this without a visual inspection; could you please also send us a photo of Angelo.

As soon as we have the above information, we will be able to answer your question.

Dear Reservations:

I would like to stay at your hotel for one night on February 24th. I would like to know if I can check in with my own ice machine?

This is a standard size hotel ice machine. Five feet high and three feet wide. It constantly makes ice. (As soon as I plug it in). (There is NO dripping). I can carry it to the room by myself. I need NO help in getting it through your lobby and into my room. This will allow me to have fresh ice in my room without having to go to the hallway for it. This ice machine leaves no water mark on your carpet.

My reservation will be for Feb 24th. I also may want tickets to Disneyland. So, please let me know if I can check in with my own ice machine and bring it to the room on that date. Thanks for getting back to me on this as I have to make my reservations NOW. This is a business trip.

I want to register as a guest at your fine hotel, Mar 5, 1996, but have a predicament that must be addressed.

I have recently lost my balance. I usually walk with a balance dog, but in the room I will be alone. I may look tipsy when I walk, but I have just lost the use of my balance, that's all. (In room I use a balance bar - similar to high rope walker). Can I get furniture that has no sharp corners? Dressers and beds should have round corners. Also what about mirrors? I have my own.

Do you provide for the balance disadvantaged? My heels are not as round as the bottom of my feet. I had heard that your hotel was set up for this. Believe me it's not easy. I may look like I'm falling down, but I'm only balance disadvantaged. Thanks for getting back to me on this. Dear Los Angeles Lakers,

I want to buy a ticket for your next home stand. Go Lakers! Because of my injury, the backside of my pants must be completely cut out. A cellophane wrapper is replaced in that area causing complete exposure. I CAN get a doctors note if you want. I don't want to cause a disturbance at the game, but I do want to jump up out of my seat and yell for the Lakers.

The only time you will see my cellophane exposed buttocks will be during the time I enter and exit the arena and during behind the back passes and 3 point buzzer shots.

In essence my backside is cut out with cellophane over it. I have seen cowboys with this look in line dancing so it's not too bad.

How much is a ticket? I hope my see through rear end will be acceptable at your next home stand. Let me know about the doctor's note.

Dear Sir or Madam:

I would like to dine in your establishment on the evening of Thursday, Sept 12, 1996.

I have a predicament. I suffer from immense odor. I have tried everything. Baths, colognes, skin washes. I have been to a doctor who told me there's nothing he can do. I just stink. It is embarrassing. I am used to the odor, but I am afraid others are not.

My question: Can I dine by the garbage area so others won't be offended? If you can put a table and chair out there I can eat by your dumpsters. Believe me the smell is that bad. It's stinky! Everybody will be happy and I'll get my meal. I will sit by your garbage bins and enjoy my meal. I don't mind the stench

I will pay for any additional expense. It's just that I can't take the stress anymore and I don't want to offend other diners.

I have been successful with this at other restaurants but to tell you the truth I am SICK OF CHICKEN. I want some good old fashioned seafood. I have heard of your Copper River salmon. I write ahead so that when I arrive at your restaurant and you get a whiff of my odor you won't turn me away. You will simply lead me to the garbage bins outside and seat me where I will enjoy my meal.

The reservation will be for Sept 12, 1996. Or another night if you are busy that night. Let me know. Thanks for writing back. Again, let me know the cost of this service. Thank you.

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Thank you for your second letter of inquiry regarding reservation availability relative to your particular and personal situation. I have received both, and I do apologize for not having responded sooner. I'd like you to know I did try to reach you personally by phone upon receipt of your first letter, but was unable to obtain your number at the Moorpark address.

I must be honest and say your request for seating under the circumstances you suggest is unique to my experience. McCormick & Schmick's has built a reputation on accessibility to all who wish to dine here, but of course even that intention has it's limits based on logistics, liability, and decorum. Accordingly, and although I very much appreciate your consideration of other guests in not wanting to offend them due to your particular condition, your suggestion to seat and serve you in our dumpster area is simply not an option.

We appreciate and agree with your deterence to other guests, and indeed have a responsibility to insure that the dining environment at McCormick & Schmick's is pleasant to the general public dining at our restaurants. With that in mind, the only possible option may be a reservation in our conference room on our mezzanine level dining room. This option would of course be subject to the room's availability, and typically it is booked for a minimum number of people (10 - 15) because it entails dedicated service by one waitperson.

Having reviewed the above, and with the intention to satisfy your request, we would have to discuss the matter directly to insure that all potential details be covered. I would be happy to have that conversation with you either by phone, or in person, at your earliest convenience.

Please feel free to call me at your convenience. My schedule as a Senior Manager has me visiting our three Los Angeles restaurants on a weekly basis. Please try any one of the following numbers, in the order presented. Should I be in a meeting, please inform the host that I requested to be interrupted for the call. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

Executive Offices SHASTA SODA PO Box 4617 Hayward, CA 94540

Dear Shasta Cola.

I had heard you were changing your name to Laarksvard's Hot Cream. Why? I have enjoyed Shasta strawberry soda for years, why change This will only confuse your many Shasta strawperry drinkers.

I have always asked for your soda by saying, "Shasta, please. I have a Shasta strawberry soda?" I don't think the name changeover will be easier for me to remember. Some of us can't remember those unusual names. I would rather say Shasta strawberry soda them Laarksvard's. (And forget that hot cream). Shasta strawberry tastes best ice cold. Everyone knows that! Also, Shasta cola is the perfect amount of syllables to say when asking for a cold one.

So, please, Shasta strawberry, tell me that you are keeping the name "Shasta strawberry soda" and not changing it to Laarksvard's Hot Cream. Thanks for your response regarding this matter. I need to know!

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Thank you for contacting Shasta Beverages and sharing your concern regarding Shasta Beverages changing it's name. Shasta Beverages is owned by National Beverage Corporation and we are not changing our name to Laarksvard's Hot Cream. We appreciate you taking the time to inquire about this name change and for sharing your concern with us. I hope this will put your mind at ease to know we will continue to be SHASTA BEVERAGES CORPORATION.

Shasta has been in the beverage business since 1889, and we are proud of our company's long history and commitment to producing good tasting, thirst-quenching products.

Enclosed please find complimentary Shasta coupons toward your family's next purchase. It has been a pleasure to serve you.

MR. BOB ARUM, TOP RANK, INC. (BOXING SHOWS)
ESPN
ESPN Plaza
Bristol, CT. 06010

Dear Mr. Arum:

I know that many heavyweight fighters are aging but still fighting. Evidenced by the 46 year old George Foreman winning the championship.

But I was just appalled at the recent news that a planned Schmeling-Holmes fight is in the works. What is going on here? I deplore you, Mr. Arum, do not let this happen. Max Schmeling has to be 85 years old. Has everyone gone insane?!

How can an 85 plus man living in Germany properly train to fight an athlete of Larry Holmes' formidiable skills. Larry Holmes is still in decent shape and this fight will be a disgrace! He will knock Schmeling out in the FIRST ROUND!!! I have seen Larry Holmes fight and he is still a finely tuned athlete. Hell, James J. Corbett was 38 when he challenged.

Something must me done to stop this aging in sports. I suggest:

- A.) When an athlete reaches 30 he is immediately reclassified. He must sign in and have his signature verified at Macy's (or another large building capable of holding many).
- B.) Double the cornermen in each fighter's corner. (We need safety) 2 cornermen, 2 cutmen, 2 assistants, 2 men to pour water on the fighters hair and sponge him off. The cornerman is allowed to hold the fighter up in the ring until his senses are gone or his eyes are glazed.

I beg you, Sir, not to allow this fight. Max Schmeling should lead a dignified life as a Coca Cola executive in Germany. Not a heavyweight contender. Do you think Coca cola should still advertise? Don't you think everyone has heard of this product?

Thank you for years of good clean boxing. You are the best at bringing great fights into people's lives.

Dear Mr. Nancy,

Thank you so much for your letter of July 12 which I just recently received. The points made in your letter are very valid.

Indeed, I immediately took steps to prevent this event from ever taking place. I can tell you now that due to your valid concern, any plans to put on this event have been abandoned.

Mr. Schmeling will be able to ease into his nineties without the risk of serious bodily harm.

The executives of HBO as well as the members of the Nevada State Athletic Commission were all very supportive in helping me kill the project.

Thank you for your prompt notice.

AMERICAN FOREST AND PAPER ASSOC. 260 Madison Ave. New York, N.Y. 10016

Dear Paper People:

I got your name from other paper bag enthusiasts in my area. We need to get back to the good old days when you got just a paper bag after your supermarket purchase. There was no choice - none of this "paper or plastic" crap. I am so sick of that! I can't listen to that paper or plastic b.s. anymore.

We need to get back to the old days when the paper bag was our only choice. There are too many choices in America today.

It's the same with cigarettes: menthol, non menthol, filter, no filter. Hell, one cigarette, one man. Isn't that enough? How many cigarettes can you smoke? Isn't that the question!?

Let's just campaign to keep the paper bag the only choice you have in the supermarket. It will clear up a lot of garbage (both figuratively and literally) in this universe. One bag, one people. Besides, plastic bags clog the blow-holes of whales and dolphins!!!

Let me know what you think. I would like literature about your organization. I support paper sacks. Get back to basics! Am awaiting your reply.

Thanks for keeping this in the public's eye,

Jake Napor

Dear Mr. Nancy:

I appreciated your letter of July 12, 1995. It is not often that we receive such enthusiastic support for the paper bag!

Currently, the Paper Bag Council, a committee of the American Forest & Paper Association comprised of paper company executives, is hard at work on a paper bag campaign. Our goal is to increase the reuse and recycling of paper bags. With this goal in mind we hope people like yourself will realize the paper bag's many benefits to our environment.

Also, we appreciate your concern for marine life. We want you to know, in light of the destruction caused by plastic bags to our oceans, beaches and marinelife, that many environmental groups strongly support the use of paper bags.

Enclosed please find some materials which I hope you will find helpful. Once again, thank you for your interest.

Product Development Dept. THE UPJOHN CO. Kalamazoo, MI 49001

Dear Development Dept:

This is my second letter!! MY OUESTION: Who comes up with the product names? I mean who's job is it to think of the names you give your drugs? Who thinks of the name Motrin? And the name Mentadent? And Gyne-Lotrimin, and Triaminicin? It all sounds like Jerry Lewis gibberish. "Gynalotriminnnn!!! Dynahabanene!!" These names are just a bunch of made up names and really don't mean anything, do they? I mean when they say "Now new Micatin has Miconazole." You made up the name Micatin AND you made up the name Miconazole. You could have said Micatin has Nibbitin and it would have been the same thing. Because Miconazole is just something you named up in your lab. Isn't it?

I have a product called Jidgebin. How can I get this product considered at your company for distribution? I am a long time salve and ointment developer as well as a fungus customer. I believe this product will help eliminate fungus. I'd like to show it to someone in research there. How do I do this? Should I just send it in?

It's a blessing that a big company like yours grows and make this a better America. The UPJOHN COMPANY. A great American company!

Thanks for your help. I have used your ear drops for years! Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Nancy:

Thank you very much for your letter of 11-29-95 in which you inquire about the origin of trade names for drugs and the process by which your antifungal, Jidegbin, could be evaluated by Pharmacia & Upjohn, Inc. to determine our interest in a possible acquisition. First, trade names for our drugs are developed by a Corporate Trademark Committee through input from Marketing and Legal representatives. A trade name search is conducted by Legal to ascertain that the prospective trade name is not confusing or similar to other trade names already in use. The prospective trade name for a drug to be marketed in the United States is then submitted to the FDA for final approval. Second, with respect to your antifungal, Jidgebin, it is doubtful that we would have interest at this time. Since it appears that Jidgebin is a topical antifungal, this opportunity does not represent a good fit with our discovery strategy or business plans for infectious diseases.

Thank you again for your interest in Pharmacia & Upjohn, Inc. and we wish you success with the further development of Jidgebin.

Sincerely yours,

CUSTOMER SERVICE MANAGER ROBINSONS-MAY DEPARTMENT STORE 6160 Laurel Canyon Blvd No Hollywood, Calif 91606

Dear Robinsons-May Customer Service Manager:

I was in your store the other day and I was paying by check. When I started to write the check out, the sales clerk asked me if I had another form of identification.

I told her I did and pulled out a credit card with my name on it. It was at this point that I started thinking: Your store is relying on me to tell you it's me. I mean you want me to verify for your employees that it's me.

I'm thinking they don't know me, don't know my check, yet they're relying on me to tell them it's me. Shouldn't there be a third party involved here? Preferably from your side. Don't you think you should have someone involved from your end?

This is not a complaint. I am very happy with Robinsons-May and have shopped there for some time.

This is about an identification system that is teetering on insanity.

When you ask a stranger to tell another stranger that they can verify it's them - then you are asking for at least one person to tell you they're not them. They will be lying to you.

I think a better system would be this: While they are shopping you can run a signature check through the Department Of Motor Vehicles and get their mother's maiden name. Then when it's purchase time - verification is complete. What do you think of this idea?

Thank you for your time,

Ted L. Nancy

Senior Management Staff Robinson-May Dept. Store 6160 Laurel Canyon Blvd. North Hollywood, Ca. 91606- 3247

Dear Senior Management Staff,

Recently, Kristin Ness forwarded to you a "check and credit card security procedure" I recomended for the Robinson-May department stores. (A great place to shop!) I am happy you are running with my idea, and while it is still being discussed, I'd like you to consider several more suggestions.

First, upon entering the store, and at locations around the store, a person planning a purchase with a credit card OR check, would leave their signature and fingerprint on a laser pad, patched directly into your verification hub, which would be linked up to the Department of Motor Vehicles or the Registrar of Voters.. By the time they've reached the checkout counter, you've already had them VERIFIED and CONFIRMED..

Also, you could also offer discounts to Robinson-May credit card holders who agree to the following security measures:

When applying for credit, in front of an authorized employee, a customer would be required to remove a clump of their hair. The hair's imprint and personal DNA code would be stored in Robinson-May's security system. When the consumer is ready to make a purchase, he lays his head on a protein imprint-analysis scanner, approving or declining the purchase based on his remaining credit or checking account balance. The cost savings on the reduction of forgery, fraud, etc., will more than offset the cost of the system. Trust me, the technology is there, and I know where it is.

I look forward to your reply.

I will always shop at Robinson-May -- you have the fewest pins in your shirts.

Sincerely,

Dear Arm and Hammer Deodorant People:

I visited your Arm & Hammer museum in Los Angeles a short time ago and the only thing I was unhappy about was I found the museum to be too cold. The air conditioning must have been down to 40! I was freezing in there!! Something must be done about this. It spoils the visit when you are so cold you can't enjoy the paintings because of a veiny headache.

Also...

Is the Picasso that you feature in some of your paintings the same Picasso that also has the perfume out? I thought since you also run the deodorant and odor company then perhaps you would know the answer to this, an obvious odor question.

The museum is beautiful. The art work is sensational, some of the most impressive I have ever seen. The displays are breath taking. I was awed.

Also, when I leave your Arm and Hammer baking soda in my refrigerator for too long my open water container gets a powdery taste. Anything that can be done about this?

Thanks for a great museum and a great stain remover product! I will never switch from Arm and Hammer.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Nancy:

We apologize for our delay in responding to you. Thank you for your interest in our company.

Dr. Armand Hammer was not connected with the ARM & HAMMER® Consumer Products Division of Church & Dwight Co., Inc. Any similarity between Dr. Hammer's name and the ARM & HAMMER brand name is purely coincidental.

Dr. Hammer was named after the character Armand in a play titled "Camille", by Alexander Dumas. The ARM & HAMMER trademark first came into use in the early 1860's. It was derived from Roman mythology and represents the arm of Vulcan, the "God of Fire" with hammer in hand about to descend upon an anvil.

Dr. Hammer passed away in December, 1990. He was Chairman o Occidental Petroleum at the time of his death. Although our He was Chairman of Chemicals Division had formed a partnership with Occidental Petroleum to produce and market potassium carbonate under the Armand Products name, any shares vested have since been repurchased by our company.

In addition, If you move the box of ARM & HAMMER® Baking Soda to another area of the refridgerator, your open water container should not get a powdery taste. Be sure the baking soda is not near the fan in your refridgerator or consider using the New FreshFlo Vents™ Fridge-Freezer Pack™.

We trust this information is helpful. We are enclosing various leaflets containing further information about ARM & HAMMER products which we hope you will enjoy. Please contact us again at

Jockey Brand Shorts Kenosha, Wisconsin 53140

To Whom This May Concern,

Wearing Jockey brand briefs has been like a religion with me. I have never worn anything but. Except for part of '88 when I tried Hanes. Nothing feels like Jockey shorts.

Recently, however, I bought two three-packs of Jockey all-cotton CLASSIC BRIEFS, and something unusual happened to all six shorts – they all wore out on the underside of the crotch (the segment of cloth that runs from just past my testicles to just below my rear-end).

I have never had this problem before. In the past, they would rip at the waist before any such hole would appear. My question: Are you treating your briefs in any chemical, or using a lesser grade cottom in the crotch region? Is it possible I'm swimming in, or using a soap or detergent that is leaving my testicles more acidic than normal? Have any other complaints about this problem been brought to your attention. A suggestion: You should select employees to wash, wear, and monitor the wear and tear of their Jockey shorts, to make sure someone doesn't get a bad batch of briefs. If anyone should know how important underpants are, you should.

I look forward to your reply. Jockey brand undershorts are best!

Dear Sirs:

I am interested in securing your theater for a production of the play: "CINNAMON- A LIFE IN PROGRESS" before it's run on Broadway (dates already secure).

The play needs a tryout arena and I thought your theater would be interested.

The play is about a 26 year old dog and it's bossy owner. We will have six cats each day for rehearsal and a Bee Wrangler during the run of the production.

Please let me know who I would contact to discuss financial arrangements with: Rental of your theater, hiring of local crews, costumes, etc.

A theater such as yours could be the perfect place to have this beautiful play about the lifelong friendship between a dog and it's master. We never see the dog. (We MAY hear a bark).

Thanking you, I remain...

Dear Mr. O'Neal,

The gift I wish to bequeath to The University Of Alabama are the remains and memorabilia of "Cinnamon," the world famous 26 year old show dog. Currently both the Portland Stage Company and Radio City Music Hall have been notified in an effort to bring "CINNAMON - A LIFE IN PROGRESS" to the the live stage. The musical includes a radio-controlled swarm of bees and the world's largest mobile ecosystem - both theatrical firsts.

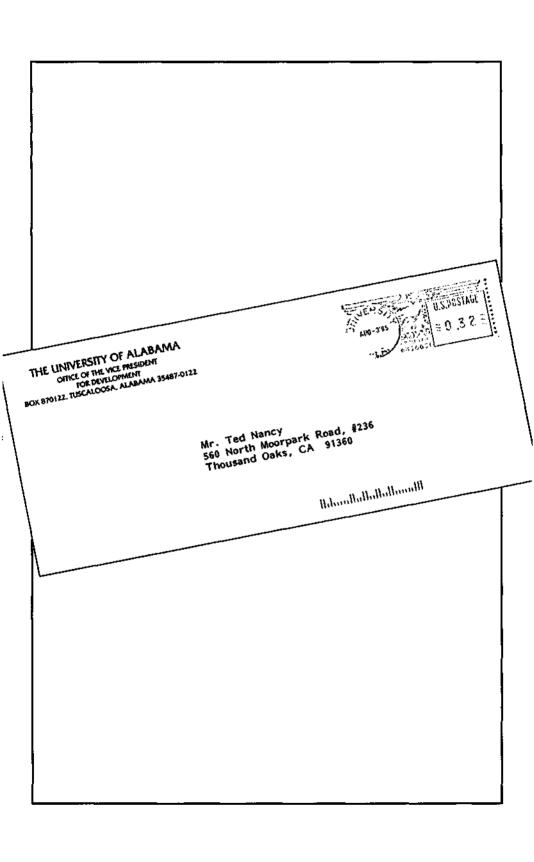

"Cinnamon - The World Famous Dog" toured extensively and was a hit at malls, car washes, multiplexes and European TV, where for twenty five cents children would pick her up and give her a squeeze.

The memory of Cinnamon's spirit can be an inspiration to everyone, as examples can be set by animals as well as humans, and the essence she embodied would be well served in an endowment supported shrine. Articles to be included: Cinnamon's food and water dish (even though she mainly drank from the pool). Her leash, collar, her special herbal flea guard recipe. Cinnamon's happy face name tag. Her mattress pad and rubber sheets. Her Purina letter regarding her as the world's oldest dog. (And Purina coupons). Pictures and video of Cinnamon twaddling around. Plus, Cinnamon, herself, stuffed and scented.

As you can imagine, Cinnamon earned a considerable amount of money in her long life time. She left quite a large estate. Perhaps you may be interested in administering this estate? Please advise as to how I may bequeath this valuable to your institution. Thanks. I eagerly await your reply.

sincerely, Il (· lavey

Dear Farmer John Meats:

I am having a semi small to very large medium fun raiser and would like to know if I can special order a bologna 59 feet by 22 feet? We are also giving away a dog.

And what about shipping? Can it be shipped in 2 parts so it doesn't bend? Or do I have to supply transportation? I think a very large bologna in a hot truck in the hot sun would probably not be so good. What do you think? I don't like hot bologna.

Please let me know how much this special order sausage is. (I have my own roll). I think you have the BEST meat out there. I eat this stuff up all the time. I weigh 500. I give it as gifts to postal workers, hedge cutters, messengers, UPS men, massage therapists. Now, I would like to buy a large bologna for my bi semi event. Can this be done? Thanks for getting back to me to let me know if you can make me a 59 foot bologna.

Thank you for your letter outlining plans for some fun.

Unfortunately you're going to have to limit the fun to smaller portions. Instead of the planned 59 feet, the longest piece of bologna we can provide is approximately 55 inches. We call this piece of bologna a "slicer". Normally we cut it in half. It's not practical to pack a bologna this large.

However, there is a possibility we could accommodate you. The cost is $1.12 per pound and the slicer weighs approximately 30 pounds.

If you are still interested, call (213) 585-9000, and ask for Mr. George Malone. He will help you with this item.

PRESIDENT KAL CAN CAT FOOD CO. Vernon, CA 90058

Dear Kal Can Cat Food President,

I am the happy owner of a 36 year old cat. Unbelievable!! His name is "Charles" and the vet can't believe it when I bring him in. But he has his records. (He's been taking care of him the whole time). He just scratches his head and says this cat has got to be the oldest cat he's ever seen. He examines him all over. He was born June 22, 1959. We used to watch Chuck Berry together. But now his eyesight is bad.

I tell the vet all Charles eats is Kal Can cat food (and sometimes licorice) but he loves the Kal Can cat food taste. Last week he examined him and told me that he thought Kal Can makes the best cat food. He said he tells all his cat owners that if it was up to him, Kal Can would be the only thing they should serve. Then he made a strange gurgling sound. He's the best vet!

My question: Is this the oldest cat you have ever heard of? I thought about taking him around malls and displaying him if he was the oldest cat ever. I figured you would know being around cats there all day. Hey, thanks for letting me know. God bless you, Mr. Cat president. Charles is my companion for life!! What other cat foods do you make that he should eat? Plese tell me if I should change to another Kal Can brand. I need to know!

Respectfully,

Ted L. Nancy

Dear Ted.

I am delighted to hear about Charles and his amazing longevity. We tried to trace you by phone, but you are not listed; hence, this letter.

Would it be possible for us to visit you and Charles? I would love to take some photographs of him for our records. I will also try to track down data on the oldest recorded cat for you.

Please call me on my direct line, 213-586-4905. I will be looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Lost & Found Department COLORADO BELLE HOTEL & CASINO P.O. Box 77000 Laughlin, NV 89028

Dear Colorado Belle Lost & Found:

I was visiting your hotel recently as part of a semi large to a full mid size group. We are a considered a group for entertainment purposes but not considered a group for anything else. In my visit to your hotel, I was distracted, confused and lost from the group.

MY QUESTION: I was wondering if you found a bag of hair? This would be a good size bag of otter hair. I use it as a 2nd coat of hair for my aging otter. My otter, Louis, is 40. That's 45 human years.

The hair is grayish - brownish - yellowish with some reddish striping. It is a hard bristle and has no use except as a 2nd hair to an otter. Although I have heard of those using it on their 2nd dog. That is why I am concerned that my bag of otter hair will end up in the wrong hands. The hair was in a bluish - greenish bag with a purplish - pinkish name tag clearly identifying it as OTTER HAIR.

Please let me know If you found my bag of otter hair. I anxiously await your reply. I have heard that the Colorado Belle goes out of it way for its guests. Especially when it comes to lost and found hair. Thanks very much. I have been coming to the Colorado Belle loyally for many years. And I will continue doing so because they have such courteous employees who go out of their way to make sure their guests are treated fairly. Please let me know if someone turned in my bag of otter hair? Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jed L. Lang Ted L. Nancy

PRESIDENT HARTZ FINCH SEED HARTZ MOUNTAIN CORP. Harrison, N.J. 07029

Dear Mr. Finch Seed President,

My pet bird is 56 years old! I have had this bird since she was born! And she's been kept on Hartz bird seed most of her life. (Sometimes I give her licorice). The vet can't belive her age but he has the records. He has been taking care of this bird since she was born: June 22, 1939. I bought her at a defunct Woolworths. I never expected her to live this long in my hot apartment. But she has.

I wanted to thank the President of the Hartz Mountain Company for making such a fine finch food as to keep my bird alive. (And chirping). Her name is Potzie. But sometimes I call her what I want. Especially when she pecks at my ring. She loves to walk around with her thin legs and look at me. As soon as I stick a plate of finch seed down she goes for it. Sometimes she gets it all over the rug. God bless the finch people. Who else is thinking of this food? Certainly not me. There's not that much finch food choices on the market.

Lately, I notice she is getting tired of this Finch seed. She just looks at the bowl when I push it in front of her. My question: Should I change her diet? Should I try some of the other Hartz bird seed? (It has to be Hartz). I don't want to upset the program I have her on. (Constant finch seed). My vet (he's a little tired himself) tells me that a mixture can be good and bad for a bird. (He mostly works on dogs and cats).

Anyway, let me know what other Hartz bird foods I should buy. I love Hartz!! This is a great company and a great America. God bless you all.

Thanks,

Jeff. hann Ted L. Nancy

FRITOS SNACK CO. Dallas, Texas 75235-5224

Dear Fritos:

I have been eating snacks for a long time. I think I have tried most snacks. Someone told me about Fritos a few weeks ago. I thought I had tried just about every snack but I had never heard of Fritos.

Imagine that, in and out of gas station snack shops for a half a life and I had never heard of this snack.

Anyway, the reason I'm writing is that I opened a bag of FRITOS and I noticed they were all curled. Every single one of them. I tasted one, it seemed hard and crunchy. And salty. I threw the bag away immediately.

You said on the back of the wrapper that if I had any comments on questions to write FRITOS. So I am writing to you.

Can you please send me a list of other snacks I may not have tried. Tried Lays Potato chips, and corn curls, Doritos (don't like the color - so you can cross them off the list!)

I really like snacking so I would love to be a great Fritos customer!! Send me a list!

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Sto L. Narey

MR. TIM CONWAY P.O. Box 17047 Encino, CA 91416

Dear Tim Conway,

I look and act exactly like you. Unintentionally. People that know me say to me, "Knowing you is like being friends with Tim Conway." Rest assured I have never done anything to embarrass us. Even with ugly women. After all, I was me before you was us.

I am sending you a drawing I made. I want to show you how much I look like you and we look like us. This morning, someone said to me as I got on the bus with my lunch box, "Hey, it's Tim Conway. What are you eating for lunch?" I glared and walked to my seat as he made fun of me for fifty five minutes. (I was having macaroni and cheese and a sardine).

Would you please sign my drawing of us and send it back? It would mean a lot to me to know that my idol, the great Tim Conway, has given me an autograph. I will put it on the wall and look at it.

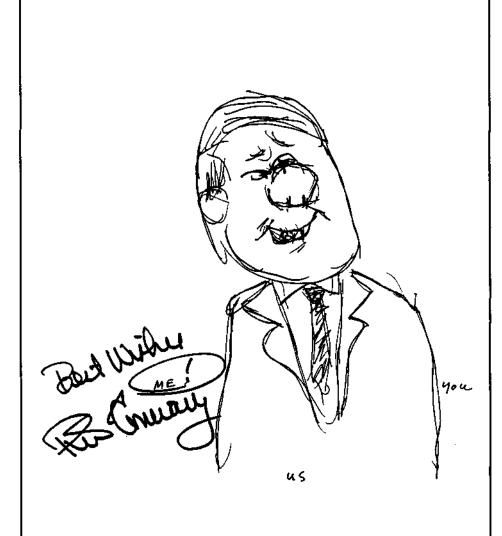

Thank you very much. I admire your face and height. I look forward to receiving my drawing back soon.

Keep up the great work on Dorf. I love the tiny feet!

Respectfully,

Jed L. Nanny Ted L. Nancy

KING TAUFA'AHAU TUPOU IV THE PALACE P.O. BOX 6 Nuku'alofa, Tonga

Dear King Tupou IV,

I have always liked the name Tonga for a country. The name is right there. There's no pretense. It's just Tonga.

Have you always been Tonga? Some countries have changed their name - Iran was Persia - Siam is Thailand. Thousand Oaks used to be Five Hundred Oaks (expansion - malls, donuts, etc.). I hope Tonga has always been Tonga. Everybody I mention this name to likes it.

Also, I noticed your address - the Palace PO Box 6 is the same as my girlfriend's place of business (she's a dancer at The Palace on Route 6 (but they use a post office box). Are you receiving her mail? There may be a mail mixup. She is expecting medical results back. I was wondering if you have them?

Is there any picture I could get of you? Or any picture of Tonga? I would love a nice picture of your beautiful country and I don't know where to get one from. The map store is closed! (Now a donut store).

It will be most revered and placed on my wall (The beginning of my Tonga collection)?

You are the best. I admire you and your people. Tonga is a place I'd like to go someday. Do you have any literature?

Tonga Rules!!

MR. TUPOU K FA'AUI FOr/Private Secretary To His Majesty KING TAUFA'AHAU TUPOU IV The Palace PO Box 6 Nuku'alofa, Tonga

Dear Mr. Tupou K Fa'aui, Sir,

Thank you very much for the brochure of Tonga and the beautiful picture of the King and Queen. Their military clothes are splendid. Not garish at all like some countries. Holland are you listening?

Just one question: In the picture that you sent me, the King is wearing a beautiful sword at his side. I was wondering whether he got that sword in Chicago as it looks very much like a Prussian military sword I lost in the Ritz Carlton bathroom?

Do you think he found my sword? That is where I had it last. In the restroom. Thank you for letting me know. The swords are very similar.

I display your picture proudly in my kitchen at home near my waffle maker. Everyone admires it. (The picture, not the waffle machine). The King is the ultimate majesty.

Also, when is a good time to visit Tonga? Do you have any Starbucks there? I like coffee. Have you ever had a Frappacino? It is cold coffee.

Thank you for getting back to me on this sword thing. Tonga is a beautiful country. Your brochure really shows off the place. I hope to hear from you soon.

Respectfully,

Fell. Namy
